Allaben Couple Fair; Felled by Car Fumes

An Allaben couple had a close call late Friday afternoon when they were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in their home on Fox Hollow Road, Town of Shandaken.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baetz, both 65, were rushed by Gormley Ambulance to Benedictine Hospital shortly after 6 p. m. Hospital authorities listed their condition this morning as fair.

About 6 p. m. Baetz telephoned the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amasa J. Herdman who reside with their daughter, Mrs. Dorothea Munch and her two

Under the order signed by Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, certain additional testimony taken in the Ulster County "kickback" investigation is made available to District Attorney David W. Corwin.

On motion of Bernard Tompkins, special assistant attorney general who conducted the Ulster probe, testimony before the special grand jury in relation to allegations of irregularities by two town superintendents of highways will be made available to Corwin.

Evidence Freed

This will make available to District Attorney Corwin the evidence relating to allegations of "misconduct, maladministration, malfeasance and malversations" of Town Superintendent of Highway Amos Stokes of Marlletown and Paul Mercier of the Town of Esopus "to determine if the district attorney should institute proceedings under the Public Officers Law for removal from office" of the two men.

On Sept. 14, 1960, Tompkins moved before Justice Greenberg to make available to District Attorney Raymond J. Mino portion of the grand jury minutes which related to Stokes and Mercier.

On March 30, 1961, Mino resigned to become county judge and Attorney David W. Corwin was appointed successor.

In an affidavit accompanying the application to Justice Greenberg for an order of inspection, Tompkins notes that "previous to January 26, 1961, additional testimony was presented to the grand jury in relation to Stokes and Mercier."

Made Early in May

Following a conversation with District Attorney Corwin on April 27, 1961, at which time Tompkins says he was informed by Corwin that he was examining the evidence then available to him, the application was made to Justice Greenberg to make available additional testimony.

That order was made early in May and makes available such portion of the later testimony (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Paris Opens Peace Talks With Rebels

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France (AP)—France and the Algerian rebels opened peace talks today and the De Gaulle government made two side conciliatory gestures.

1. French forces in Algeria were ordered to cease at 6 p. m. all offensive operations against the rebels they have been fighting for almost seven years.

Patrols to Continue

2. Algerian rebel chieftain Ahmed ben Bella was flown from a fortress prison the Ile d'Aix to a site closer to the peace talks in this Lake Geneva resort city. It was reported from Algeria that word has already been passed to the 500,000 soldiers in

Apalachin Costs U. S. $1 Million, N. Y. Solon Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Apalachin, N. Y., crime convention of November 1957 cost the government over $1 million, Rep. John J. Rooney, R-N.Y., says the money was "just plain wasted."

And, in testimony made public today by the House Appropriations Subcommittee Rooney heads, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said his department is taking steps to prevent a recurrence of the episode.

He described the 60 men who attended the convention as top underworld figures from around the country. Rooney said it cost the taxpayers $900,000 "for a superduper crowd of young lawyers who did not know the first thing about criminal law."

Costs of the convention to the FBI and other investigative agencies boosted the total federal cost to about $1 million, Rooney said, adding:

"We are all for putting these racketeers and hoodlums behind bars but I hope that we will not have a silly situation like that again."

Series of Summits Loom After Parley in Austria

Uneasiness Apparent Over Talk Solons Thinking Of Paris Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress are keeping their fingers crossed about the outcome of the forthcoming meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Beneath the expressions of support for Kennedy and the generally cautious optimism reflected in comment, there is a core of uneasiness about what might happen at Vienna.

Democrats Confident

This seems to be based primarily on the unpredictability of Khrushchev and his demonstrated ability to make propaganda out of almost any occasion. Nobody has forgotten his breakup of the Paris conference a year ago nor his abusive treatment of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Some Republicans obviously wonder how Kennedy would cope with some similar incidents. Most Democrats think he will be able to take care of himself.

In this connection, Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., said Democratic leaders ought to try to persuade Kennedy to call off the conference.

"We should not send an apprentice president to deal with a wily, seasoned, world-wise leader like (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Law Gets Assist, Freeman Scribe Finds Stolen Car

An automobile reported stolen in Poughkeepsie at 11:15 p. m. Friday, was recovered this morning by a Kingston Freeman reporter on his way to work.

James L. Davis, of Cream Street, Town of Poughkeepsie, told police his sedan was stolen from the Garden Street parking lot. Within five minutes after Walter S. Clark, Jr. of 10 Streit Avenue, Poughkeepsie, a Freeman reporter was told of the car theft by Lt. George Trave, the newsman found the vehicle in a parking lot at the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge.

Police were notified and the car was taken back to Poughkeepsie.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Economists and industrialists raised their sights during the week on the expected extent of the business recovery.

Improvement in personal incomes, factory sales, steel production and automobile sales spurred the optimism.

"The regenerative forces on the economy are being restored and strengthened," said Walter H. Heller, chief economic adviser to President Kennedy.

He asserted that any "doubt about a brightening of the business picture disappeared with a 2 1/2 per cent advance in the industrial production index from March to April.

And he predicted the country's

World Hopes, Cautious Of Results in Vienna

LONDON (AP)—The world hoped today the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Austria two weeks from now would ease international tension. But there was caution, about expecting any momentous results.

"It's the Vienna Waltz," said the conservative London Daily Sketch over a cartoon showing the U. S. President and the Soviet premier dancing together.

Humanity at Stake: Indian

India's philosopher-statesman, Vice President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, said the future of humanity is at stake in these cruel times.

"One of our ancient scriptures tells us that when danger is near, salvation also is near," he said in a New Delhi banquet speech that put the moral support of his neutral nation behind the coming meeting.

He spoke at a state dinner for visiting U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told reporters that to meet Kennedy "is a salutary experience for anybody, and we hope very much that good will come out of this meeting."

Kennedy will call at London for talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan after his meeting with Khrushchev June 3-4.

No DeGaulle Comment

There was no direct comment from French President Charles de Gaulle. Members of his official family said he had neither any objections nor any enthusiasm for the meeting. Kennedy will meet with De Gaulle in Paris and go directly from these talks to see Khrushchev.

The government press bureau in Bonn said West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer welcomes the meeting and thinks Khrushchev and Kennedy should get to know one another personally.

The Japanese foreign office also approved of the summit meeting as a chance to slacken world tension.

Yugoslavia Hopeful

A Yugoslav spokesman said the Tito government hopes the conference will contribute to peace and better cooperation.

The British press unanimously applauded the meeting plan. The London Daily Express said the gap since an American and a Soviet leader last met has been too long and unprofitable.

output of goods and services will rise $25 billion by the end of the year from the January-March rate. This would boost it to about $255 billion for the year.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges pointed to the advances in personal incomes and manufacturers' sales in April as new signs of recovery. "The economy 'is not kicking at the roof but it is out of the cellar,' he said.

Because his advisers believe the recovery is solidly based, President Kennedy has decided against any huge spending program or income tax cuts to hasten the resurgence. However, he did release $18 million in federal highway funds six weeks ahead of schedule in an effort to speed up road building.

Yun Accedes, Will Stay as President

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Bowling to pieces of rebel generals, President Yun Po-sun today withdrew his one-day old resignation to give South Korea's new military regime constitutional status.

The elder statesman, 63, announced he had agreed to stay on as the civilian figurehead chief-of-state to avoid "international repercussions."

Foreign diplomats are accredited to the president and U. S. officials take the view that Yun remaining in office would make recognition of the new regime automatic.

All-Military Cabinet
The president announced withdrawal of his resignation at a news conference flanked by the two top leaders of the ruling junta—Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, who named himself premier and defense minister earlier in the day, and Maj. Gen. Pak Jung-hi.

Gen. Chang, 38, in taking over as premier named a 15-man cabinet—all military men.

The presence of the revolutionary leaders at his side did not stop Yun from expressing regrets about the revolt that overthrew the elected government.

The military coup d'état seems to give the people many encouraging hopes for the future although it was quite regrettable and I wish it had never occurred in this country," he said.

And he warned that he would resign again if the new regime takes a direction of which he disapproves.

Round Up Opposition
In lightning raids during the night South Korea's military rulers jailed members of deposed Premier John M. Chang's cabinet and generals who refused to back Tuesday's coup.

The ousted premier, 61, reportedly talked himself out of arrest. He defied military police trying to take him to prison and demanded they produce a warrant signed by junta leader, Gen. Chang.

U. S. Gen. Carter Magruder, the supreme United Nations commander in Korea, reportedly has demanded that South Korean military units which defied him in overthrowing the elected government return immediately to their positions.

Says U. N. Undermined

Some Cheer, Many Are Quiet on Cuba Return

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The first American prisoners repatriated from Fidel Castro's Cuba, including the last U. S. newsmen there, arrived in Miami Friday night—some glad, some fighting mad and some fearfully silent.

Fifty-two Americans were in the group of 101 passengers who arrived aboard a chartered airliner. Also aboard were 46 Cuban refugees.

The Americans included four newsmen, five Catholic priests and three nuns.

Churchmen aboard the plane included Father Lorenzo Spirali, founder of Villanueva University; Father Edward McCarthy, prior of Hualagel and Father Emelio Castro.

Other repatriates were Grace Dumond, mother of Miami City Commissioner Joseph X. Dumond; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinsey of Fort Pierce, Fla.; Henry Sanz of Miami and Wellington Swearingen, retired farmer from Moorland, Ind.

"I came out with a small zipper bag containing all the possessions remaining to me from a three-bedroom apartment in Havana," Milks said.

"Everything else, clothes, furniture, dishes and prized possessions gathered in more than 20 years as a foreign correspondent were left in the hands of Castro's militia."

Mrs. Phillips said she learned only 10 minutes before the plane departed that she could leave. She appeared exhausted.

Rocky Is One of Greatest, Morhouse Tells Young GOP

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Nelson A. Rockefeller, in state office less than 30 months, ranks as one of the great governors of New York, GOP State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse says.

Morhouse said Friday night that the Republican governor "is providing New York today with aggressive and progressive leadership of the same quality and magnitude" as former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Democratic Govs. Alfred E. Smith and Herbert H. Lehman.

The state chairman told the 29th annual convention of State Young Republicans that Rockefeller inherited a $700-million budget-balancing deficit.

Rockefeller placed the state on a sound pay-as-you-go fiscal basis in one year by readjusting the tax structure, he added, but the readjustment was a difficult decision.

The Young Republicans named 18-year-old Michelle Allikas Miss Young GOP of New York State. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allikas of Mamaroneck, she will represent the state next month in the national contest at Minneapolis.

Arthur M. Richardson of Rochester was slated to be elected this afternoon to a second term as president of the state organization.

Rep. William E. Miller of Niagara Falls, a top contender to succeed Sen. Thurston Morton as chairman of the Republican National Committee, will address the closing session of the two-day convention tonight.

LEAVING FOR YOUNG GOP MEETING—Miss Lynda Baer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Baer of 280 Clinton Avenue, poses with local party leaders as she starts for the 29th annual convention of the Association of New York State Young Republican Clubs in Saratoga Springs. The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The faith of William Booth, who saw weakness and poverty as a pawnbroker's assistant in 19th Century England, strengthened him to form the Salvation Army that today serves man over the world.

William dedicated his life to Christ at 15 and went "forth to serve my God." He preached. In his late forties, he founded the Army with his wife, overcoming financial difficulties, ridicule and abuse to be honored by the king.

Today, these "sons and daughters of Him Whose name and Whose nature is 'love'" offer services that include the Anti-Suicide League, emergency housing, employment bureaus, nurseries, hospitals, homes for aged, youth camps, care for convicts, unwed mothers and alcoholics.

Art Students League Names Summer School Instructors

Four well known American artists and long time residents of Woodstock have been named instructors for the Art Students League's summer school in Woodstock. The school opens on June 5.

The quartet includes three holdovers—Walter Plate, Edward Millman and Arnold Blanch—and Dick Chambers, who is professionally known as Richard Munsell. Chambers will be teaching at the League summer school for the first time.

During the month of June there will be one morning class conducted by Arnold Blanch. In the months of July and August, there will be three morning classes. Arnold Blanch and Walter Plate will have painting and drawing classes. Munsell will teach a class in illustration, landscape and figure painting.

During the months of July and August there will be one afternoon class conducted by Edward Millman. The office and the grounds will be managed by Robert Angeloch.

Inquiries about the summer school, one of the finest in the art world, have been greater than ever and a large enrollment is expected.

Committee Asks Board Action on Voter Survey

A Woodstock committee which campaigned vigorously for passage of the recently defeated bond issue in the Ontario Central district has recommended a district wide survey to establish, if possible, reasons for the issue's defeat.

The Ontario Committee for Better Education in a letter to the Ontario Board of Education suggests that "the Board conduct a systematic survey, perhaps via a questionnaire to all voters, to be returned unsigned to preserve voters' secrecy, or any other comprehensive way the Board may consider suitable."

The letter, which is signed by Richard O. Langham, chairman, follows:

"The recent defeat of the bond issue in the Ontario Central Schools District has placed problems before the Board of Education, decisions which will vitally affect the quality of education for a number of years. Such decisions obviously can only be taken on the basis of the fullest available information.

"Since there appeared to be little disagreement among most voters about the need for additional school rooms, clearly other factors caused the defeat of the Bond Issue. It seems to us that it is of vital importance to the Board to have accurate knowledge of just what these factors were. We feel the Board must know whether:

1. The defeat was caused by minor objections which could be eliminated by small revisions in the proposal.

2. Objections were of such a basic nature that a completely new formula would have to be devised by the Board.

3. Misunderstandings or misconceptions created sufficient opposition to cause its defeat, in which case better explanations or publicity in these areas might pass another Bond Issue.

"It is our feeling that such information cannot be obtained by random questioning of isolated voters. Moreover, such questioning usually gives most weight to the most vocal, who are not necessarily the representatives of the majority.

"It is our suggestion therefore, that the Board conduct a systematic survey, perhaps via a questionnaire to all voters, to be returned unsigned to preserve voters' secrecy, or any other comprehensive way the Board may consider suitable to find out the reasons for the defeat of the Bond Issue.

"Only this way, we submit, can the Board obtain a clear picture upon which to base its decisions for the future." RICHARD O. LANGHAM.

Will Have New Tennis Courts

Woodstock will have another tennis court this summer with the opening of the Woodstock Estates tennis facilities which will be supervised by professional personnel.

The court will be open to the public at a small hourly rental charge and the opening date has been set for Memorial Day weekend.

Woodstock tennis enthusiasts will be happy to learn that Ned Chase will manage the courts. Both Chase and his father, Edward Chase, have made tennis their sports careers and bring an excellent background to the post.

Ned Chase played varsity tennis at Harvard, while his father was not only a college player of repute but also competed in many national tournaments against the best amateurs in the country.

Tentative plans for the summer include tournaments and club championships. Professional lessons and the rental of equipment will also be arranged.

Weaving Class Set at Guild

The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, under its Adult Education program, is planning an evening course for beginners in weaving, to start immediately that 10 pupils are enrolled.

The class will be under the direction of Berta Frey and will meet in her spacious studio, well equipped with looms, in Bearsview.

Miss Frey is among today's most prominent figures in the realm of weaving. Teacher, lecturer and writer, her work has been exhibited internationally and is known widely for its beautiful quality in texture, tone and design.

A nominal fee is charged for 10, three-hour lessons, with pupils paying for materials involved. Further information is available from Mrs. Wangler at the Guild Shop.

Mrs. Roosevelt Backs Stand by H. Schimmerling

An observation by Prof. Hanus A. Schimmerling that discipline in American education is inadequate was cited in a recent "My Day" column by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Schimmerling, who retired from the Ontario Central School music department last year, wrote about the difference in discipline after an extended tour of Europe during which he visited several school systems.

Commenting on the subject Mrs. Roosevelt wrote: "One very

D Dept. Says Secrecy of Swiss Stymies Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says it is faced with an umbrella of Swiss secrecy in attempting to unravel the legal claims involving the General Aniline & Film Corp.

The corporation, which has plants in Binghamton, Johnson City and Albany, N. Y., and Linden, N. J., was seized from Germany by the government during World War II.

Because of litigation begun by Swiss interests, which also claim part of General Aniline, the U. S. government has been unable to sell it to private investors.

Bills before the House and Senate would permit the sale and provide that money paid for the $117 million property be held in trust pending the outcome of the litigation.

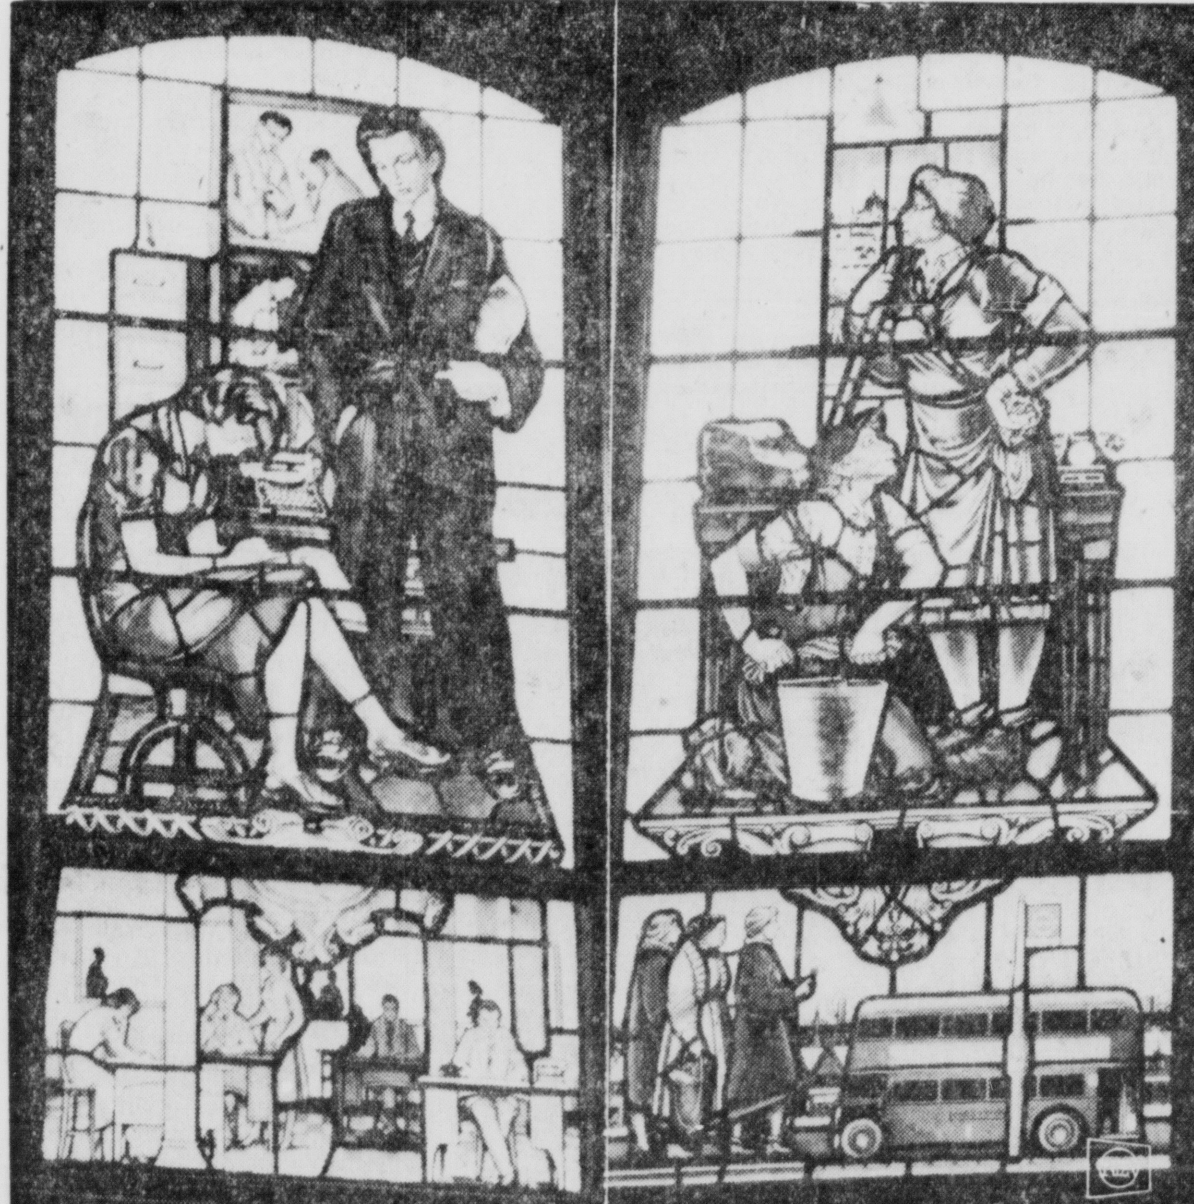

Irving Jaffe, chief of special litigation for the Justice Department's Office of Alien Property, said that in preparing part of the complex case for trial U. S. investigators ran head-on into Swiss bank secrecy laws.

Under them no one is permitted access to bank records, Jaffe said, or is anyone permitted to give to any foreigner any material which Switzerland believes would be detrimental to its economic position.

"As a consequence we are not getting full disclosure and even the books they are going to show us... have blacked-out pages," he added.

The Justice Department still owns over 95 per cent of General Aniline's stock.

The firm has about 8,000 employees and grosses more than $150 million annually.

Many Businesses Run On Fiscal Year Basis

Q "What does the term 'fiscal year' mean to me as a shareholder?"—B.M.

A Fiscal year refers to a 12-month accounting period which covers a different time span than the usual calendar year. To you as a shareholder, it has not great significance except perhaps to indicate the seasonal nature of a company's business. In some cases, reporting earnings on a calendar basis provides a distorted picture of quarterly or semi-annual profits.

Operating on a fiscal year basis has certain advantages. For example, many department stores find December 31 too soon after the Christmas rush to close their books, so they wind up their accounting period the following January 31. Their fiscal year, then, runs from February 1 through January 31.

Firms whose profits are tied to agriculture, such as California Packing and Holly Sugar, begin their fiscal years in March or April to coincide with planting seasons. Several paint companies I know of begin their years in September. Apparel makers may start their fiscal year in May or June when fall buying begins.

Perhaps the best known example of a fiscal year is that employed by the Federal Government. Since Uncle Sam takes in much of his tax money during the second quarter, his fiscal year runs from July through the following June 30.

You will find, though, that the great majority of businesses operate on the usual calendar year basis.

Q "I'm looking for growth in sound stocks. I purchased First Charter Financial at 25. Should I buy more now?"—O.H.

A First Charter (NYSE) is doing well and further gains seem likely. A stock dividend is expected before the end of 1961. I still like the shares and continue to recommend them. For growth, you might also look into Fibsch and Moore (OTC) a large electrical contractor and Spartans Industries (NYSE), aggressive merchandiser, now moving into the discount store business.

4 Persons Hurt As Building Falls

NEW YORK (AP)—A three-story frame building in Brooklyn's Greenpoint section collapsed into a pile of rubble early today, injuring the four persons inside—one seriously.

Four other members of the two families that resided in the 70-year-old structure were not home when it disintegrated at about 1 a. m. EDT.

Mrs. Mary Sefcik, 52, was taken to a hospital in serious condition, police said. Her husband, a transit authority workman, was at work when the building collapsed. She was buried in the wreckage for 45 minutes before rescue workers could reach her.

Taken to a hospital suffering from shock, cuts, abrasions and possible internal injuries was Mrs. Leona Simmons, 42. Two of her children, Patricia, 13, and Cathy, 15, were hospitalized for shock.

The class will be entertained at a supper and reception by the congregation's youth group Monday evening.

Troy Methodists Score Foreign Policy on Aid

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—The Troy Conference of the Methodist Church says the United States should strive to resume trade relations with Cuba and send surplus food to Red China.

The conference Friday expressed regret at "our involvement" in the recent abortive invasion of the island and commended "the announced determination of President Kennedy that there shall be no military intervention in Cuba."

Resumption of trade relations would be part of an attempt to detach Premier Fidel Castro from the communist bloc, the conference said in a resolution.

The conference said Red China purchased more than $300 million worth of wheat from Canada. This, the conference said, was evidence there was famine in China.

In other resolutions, the conference:

Advocated an exchange of ministers between white and Negro Methodist churches in the conference, which covers northeastern New York, Vermont and northwestern Massachusetts. The conference also recommended contacting churches of the African Methodist groups.

Protested what it called the "un-American methods" of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Scientist Church Speaker Slated Here on May 29th

WILSON M. RILEY

Mankind's unlimited possibilities will be emphasized in a lecture on Christian Science by Wilson M. Riley of Kansas City, Mo., Monday, May 29, under the sponsorship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The lecture, open to the public, will be held at the First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue, starting 8 p. m. His subject will be Christian Science: God's Ever-present Kingdom Revealed.

Now on extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Riley is a former Christian Science Committee on Publication for the State of Missouri.

A native of Kansas City, he received his education at the University of Kansas. He withdrew from the publishing business in 1940 to devote his full time to the public practice of Christian Science. He became a Christian Science teacher in 1952. He has served as moderator of the television series "How Christian Science Heals."

LAW FOR ALL NATIONS

"Science has raced far ahead of law," says Charles S. Rhyne, an earnest leader of the American bar who is devoting himself tirelessly to trying to close the gap—in the interests of world peace.

When you look about at the harsh frictions of the cold war, the Committee on World Peace Through Law, which Rhyne heads in this country, sounds like pretty idealistic stuff. But, under the American Bar Association's wing, he plunges on.

In June, there'll be a continental conference on the issue at San Jose, Costa Rica. Others will take place later in Tokyo, Africa and Europe. The June meeting will feature 23 nations of the Western Hemisphere.

What Rhyne and the co-operating lawyers of many countries want to see is a great modernization and extension of law in the international field. In many realms of human endeavor, no adequate rules seem to exist at all. In others, they are cloudy and conflicting.

In a shrunken world, the contacts of businessmen around the globe are steadily increasing. Yet no common body of law exists to regulate their dealings.

We're told constantly that investment by the developed nations in projects to aid the underdeveloped lands is essential to the latter's progress without communism. But investors feel shaky when they look in vain for legal safeguards for their ventures.

The goal then is a body of world law covering every relation between men and nations, on the theory that such an agreed set of principles would afford the "best foundation for peace" in this age of nagging conflicts.

Proponents of the cause here and abroad want to see this enlarged legal structure lead to a regional court system capped by the World Court at The Hague.

A European regional court has handled 200 cases in four years. The World Court, however, is an admitted disappointment. With only 39 of the 99 United Nations members affiliated, it has decided just 12 cases since its founding in 1946. Five of the 39, including the United States, put severe limits on the court's jurisdiction.

Still, the eager advocates of world peace through law go on combing through their subject with unyielding effort. They hope for the day when the great conflicts will be settled in the courthouses instead of on the battlefields.

What man will tell them they should cease trying?

WELFARE REVALUATION

Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, has raised some basic questions about welfare services. His line of thinking is summed up in these words, uttered at the annual forum of the National Conference on Social Welfare:

"Are we on the right track in welfare services? Or are we just continuing, year after year, to patch up programs created 25 years ago?"

Asking such questions is not a mere exercise in rhetoric. There is more than a little truth in Ribicoff's expressed feeling that "we have just been drifting in the field of welfare across this land." Many persons engaged in welfare work would doubtless agree with him that the time has come for revaluation of services, and possibly for revision in the light of changing conditions.

It cannot be ignored that this is by no means a universal point of view. There also are Americans who urge that, far from extending welfare services, the government—and by this they mean especially the federal government, and to a lesser extent local and state government—should curtail present services and eliminate some of them.

Ribicoff is right in suggesting, however, that revaluation of welfare services would be timely. Much good will come of such a revaluation if those working on it are keenly mindful that there must be sensible

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
KOREA

The United States met the first serious defeat in its history in Korea. General Douglas MacArthur, our most distinguished military leader, was not permitted to bring that war to a victorious conclusion. In fact, he was dismissed from his post, after a glorious career because his judgment of the Korean War differed from that of the politicians in Washington. He was instructed not to invade the enemy's sanctuary in Manchuria. The Chinese Communists, who heretofore had counted for very little as a military force, gained "face" throughout Asia.

The Korean War was euphemistically called a United Nations police action and so far as the record goes, the United States was one of several nations involved in that engagement. But the fact is that we put up most of the effective troops and all of the money and, so far as the East of Asia is concerned, it was the United States and not the United Nations which lost prestige as a result of the Korean War.

Every nation reviewed its own relations with the United States. The question asked was if Red China could defeat the United States, what has become of American strength and power? The neutrality which followed often meant that the balance of friendship favored Soviet Russia.

The War ended in the division of Korea at the 38th Parallel between South and North Korea. South Korea, in many respects, became dependent upon the United States; North Korea became a part of Red China.

On April 7, 1960, Korea's heroic President was cast aside as the result of a students' strike. In the Far East, a students' strike is not unusual. It is an expression of the will of the people against the government. The complaint against Rhee was not that he had become too old to govern, but that he tolerated corruption, by his supporters.

Corruption in East Asian countries is not taken very seriously unless there is hunger and famine. The salaries of officials are ridiculously low, the cost of holding office is high; it is expected that each position includes perquisites. In fact, in an older China (and Korea as well) many important official positions were purchased, the legitimate graft being so great. And even in my time in China, which was not so long ago, it was expected that an upstanding official would do well by himself and his family and nobody criticized him for it, except a few foreigners who did not know better.

It has therefore been assumed that the students' strike in South Korea, which succeeded in eliminating Syngman Rhee, was fomented by influences other than Korean. Not only was Red China suspected but also the United States which desired a younger man than Rhee, one less arbitrary, more "democratic." So we supported John Chang as Premier.

Now, a military junta has taken over. It seeks an honest government. In East Asian countries, military men are notoriously not honest. The Oriental expression is that if one is very near a greasepot, the grease is likely to rub off. Therefore no old China hand is going to take seriously the contention that a military junta seeks honesty. It may seek a better division of the spoils or all of it, but never honesty. It is not a local custom.

Therefore one must seek further. There can be no question but that Red China desires an amalgamation of South and North Korea with Communist North Korea prevailing. This would make Korea a satellite of Red China. It would immediately imperil Japan which can be attacked from the Korean Peninsula without any geographic interference.

It is the strategy of the Soviet Union State to keep the United States engaged in endless tribulations. The Chinese Communists hold that war between the West and the Socialist countries is absolutely inevitable and even essential if Communism is to prevail universally.

Therefore, Red China is actively teasing the United States into an angry gesture. Laos is a Red Chinese enterprise; South Vietnam is another; Korea is another. At some point, the United States will become sufficiently irritated. Then Soviet Russia will have no alternative but to follow the lead of Red China. It is a risky gamble, but Mao Tse-tung must do something because the dissatisfaction in his country is excessive. The Chinese people have at no time had less to eat.

The Mature Parent
Tattling Is Child's Version
Of Grownups' Gossiping

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
Our 7-year-old plays constantly with another child who is a year older. Though this child is bossy toward Charlene, I don't mind this. I do mind her tattling. This youngster is always running in to tell me that Charlene has taken off her sweater, is eating something or has done something else. I've tried to tell her that this tattling is disloyalty to Charlene but it's no use. ...

ANSWER: If we don't like to listen to a child's tattling, it is simple to tell him how we feel. "Disloyalty" isn't always the motive for children's tattling any more than it is always the motive for ours.

For example, disloyalty may have no part in my reason for telling you that a mutual friend of ours has lost his job. I may reveal our friends secret to you—the definition of "tattling" because I hope you may be able to help him find another job. I may tell you to him to show you that I enjoy more of his confidence than you do. I may tell you because my own anxiety requires your comfort. And I may tell you on him out of a self-righteous satisfaction in my own freedom from economic worry.

Children tattle for as wide a variety of reasons as we do. Grownups fail to appreciate this because we don't like to see the similarity between children's tattling and our gossiping.

Once we see the tale-bearing youngster as a juvenile version of the gossip in ourselves, we can begin to credit his tattling with the same variety of motives that compel us to reveal the private experiences of our friends to other people.

With this new understanding we are not disturbed by prejudice and misconceptions when Charlene's friend runs in with the news that our daughter has taken off her sweater. Nasty Little Tattler, we see a little human being who may simply want to prove herself a good friend, may feel genuine concern for Charlene's health, may want her sense of responsibility credited—or may indeed be taking self-righteous pleasure in her superior obedience.

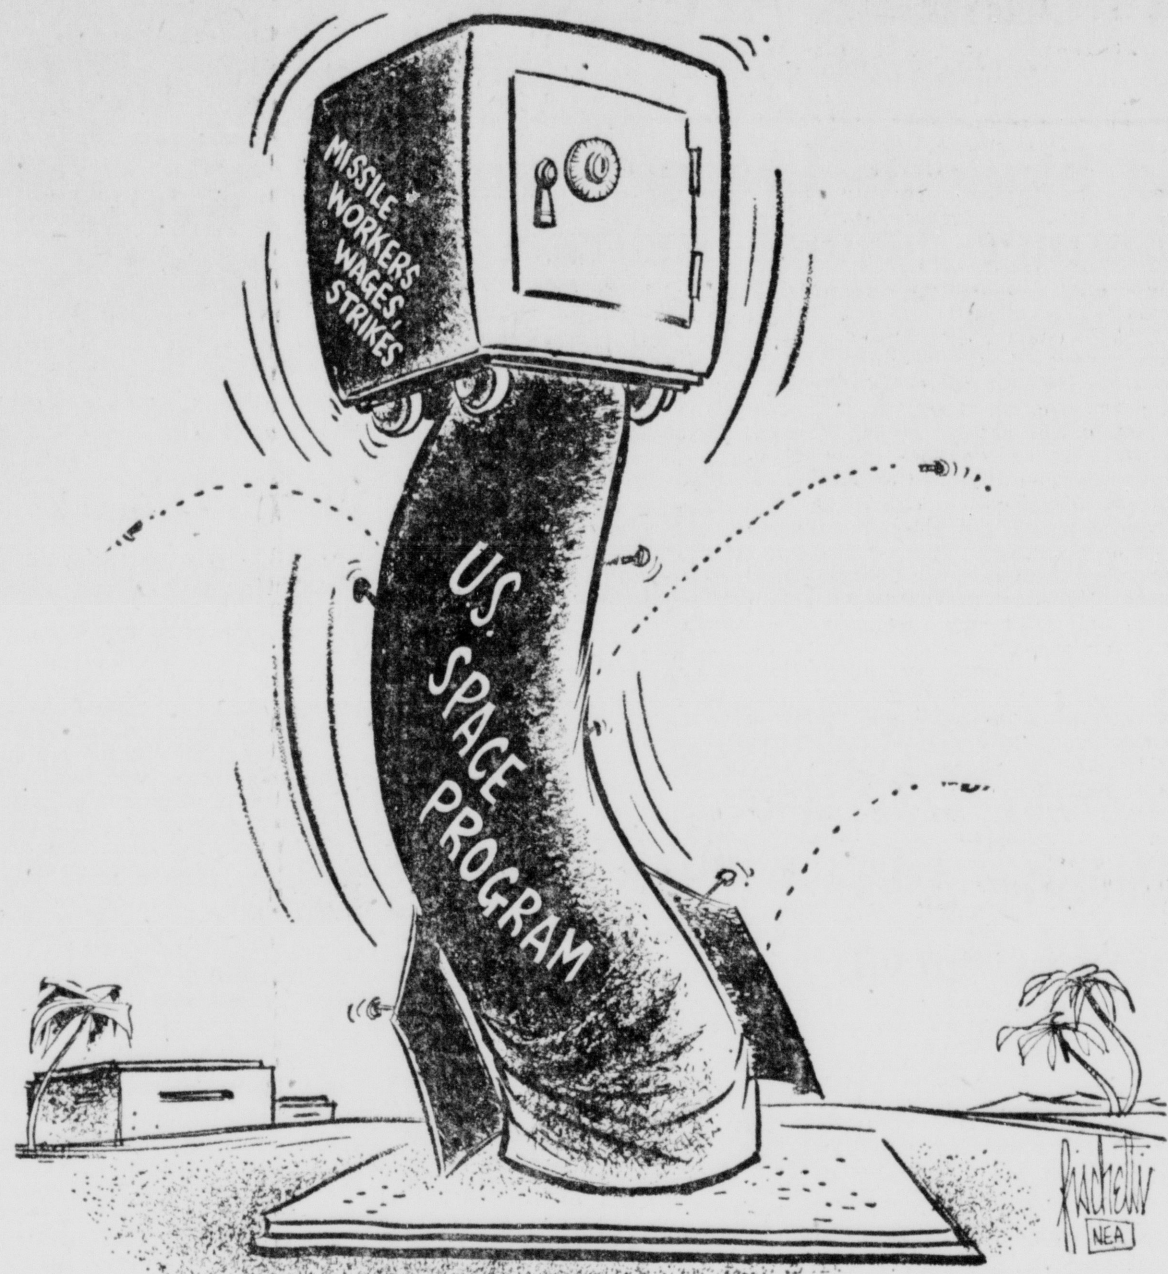

But now none of these motives strike us as strange and bad. Grownups who are repelled by child tattlers are just grownups who like to glorify their own gossiping by other names. (All rights reserved, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If there's a speck of truth in it, the silliest story to come out of Washington in years' is the (Newsweek) magazine report that President Kennedy will send a special message to Congress after his return from Canada, asking for an increase in the draft and price and wage controls.

This has been officially denied by Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield. White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger says the President may make another speech before he goes to Europe, but it will be on other subjects if he does.

BUT THERE IS ALWAYS a smattering of fact behind even the wildest of such stories. Reporters don't dream them up. Somebody tells them things. In this case, it is known that an increase in the draft has been considered as one means of alerting the country to a realization that United States national security is now in danger. This smacks of propagandizing the American people.

Selective Service headquarters in Washington had issued no draft call at all up to May 15. In April only 1,500 men were called up. In March it was 3,500; January and February, 6,000. So there is no manpower shortage in the armed services. Volunteers and re-enlistments are maintaining authorized strength.

The United States stepped up training of anti-guerrilla forces over a year ago. With this nucleus to use as instructors, the training program has now been tripled. But it is still not a big force, and it might not be too smart to advertise a further increase now by stepping up the draft.

IT IS AN OLD RULE that, any time the American government starts telling its people untruths, just to make them aware of some unneeded sacrifice they should make, it is in dire trouble.

This applies particularly to the report that price and wage controls might be imposed. There is no threat of inflation in the United States today. The cost-of-living index has climbed only 2 per cent in the last year. There is no shortage of goods and services. There are surpluses of everything from food to automobiles.

The average hourly wage rate in manufacturing—$2.22 in 1959—advanced to $2.29 in 1960 and to $2.32 in the first quarter of 1961. There is high unemployment, which tends to hold wages down. The Kennedy administration itself has just put through a new law to increase minimum wages. To put a wage freeze on top of that would be the height of inconsistency.

THE GOVERNMENT DOES HAVE a planning expert for economic stabilization in the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization. He is Edward F. Phelps Jr., and he has been on the job since 1955.

But he worked in the Office of Price Administration under the Democrats in World War II and the Korean War, and he has been retained by Kennedy's OCEM director, Frank Ellis.

Phelps says any idea of trying to freeze prices and wages now is news to him and he ought to know about it first, if it's cooking. Or if this is an idea that has been dreamed up in the White House and not relayed across the street to the executive office building, why he'll be the first to leave.

IF A NATIONAL MOBILIZATION were ordered because the country was under attack, that would be something else again.

The long-drawn-up plans for might then be invoked by the President to put the whole United States economy on a cold or hot war footing.

But there is no such emergency at the moment and there is no psychological reason for trying to whip the country into one by imposing a lot of controls like press censorship.

Even Kennedy's letter to Garden City, N. Y., publisher Alicia Patterson said that rationing, doubling the draft quota and increasing taxes would not help.

IN THE FACE OF THIS, responsible opinion in Washington is that everyone ought to relax a little and let common sense return. This, it would seem, is the commodity in shortest supply around here, and there should never be a price ceiling put on that.

School Board
Votes to Raise Tuition Fees

NEW PALTZ.—The New Paltz School Board has voted to raise the non-resident student tuition from $100 a year to $125 starting in September.

The board felt that in fairness to the taxpayers this raise is in order. The state aid for non-resident students is about $400 a year while state aid for students in the district amounts to about $600. School boards are permitted to charge tuition fees as high as the difference between non-residents and resident state-aid.

Plans are still underway for the New Paltz School Board and the Walkkill School District to negotiate to change the boundary lines of the school bus routes. Both districts now overlap in many areas.

One morning last week a truck sideswiped one of the school buses on Route 299 breaking the side mirror and causing a piece of glass to lodge in one of the children's eye. The child was treated by a doctor but has continued to go to school, it was reported.

The school board has accepted with regret the resignation of three of the school's teachers:

Miss Helen Mikula, English and social studies teacher; Mrs. Ruth Patterson, language teacher, and William Oliver, who plans to teach physical education in Maine. Teaching jobs have been offered to Miss Mary Jane Shepherd, who is graduating from the College of Education, Albany, in June, to teach social studies; Miss Mary Jane Bjerkle of North Dakota to teach high school mathematics, and Edward Bernard, who has taught in Peru, to teach Spanish and French.

Mr. Hamilton, business manager, will advertise for bids for library books, magazines, and physical education, art, science, and industrial arts supplies. Mr. Hamilton has also been authorized by the board to purchase the following items which have been provided for in the new budget: 35 combination desks and seats at $21.35 each; six manual and one electric I.C. Smith-Corona typewriters for $695, and one desk and chair at $169.50, less 20 per cent discount.

The board will hire, on a part time basis, for next year, a dental hygienist, nurse, psychologist, remedial reading specialist, reading coordinator, speech therapist, research coordinator, and teacher of industrial arts, physical education, music, and driver education. John Ashton Jr., president of the school board has been authorized by the board to sign the contract for the services with the Board of Cooperative Services.

The board authorized Mr. Hamilton to offer a six-month's provisional appointment as clerk-typist to Mrs. Ernest Ahlberg.

The board also approved the list of seniors certified for graduation by Frederick Dippel.

Peter Harp, school attorney, has said that a savings account in the amount of $200 has been opened with the bequest fund by Mrs. Edith Lundrup, to the New Paltz Central School District. According to Mrs. Lundrup's will the interest will be used starting next year for an award for the student holding the best rating in fourth-year English at graduation.

Mr. Hamilton has announced that at the June meeting he will ask the board to transfer funds to two classifications, general control and operation of plant, owing to one being in the red.

A guidance report to Mr. Dippel upon the completion of the guidance supervisor's visit to the New Paltz School, suggests that more than one guidance counselor and a full time clerk would be desirable, that duplicates of guidance material be placed in the library, that group guidance, as well as individual guidance be given and that follow-up surveys be sent to students who have graduated to show how effective guidance services are.

Series of

was no enthusiasm in Washington for further summit sessions.

U2 Changed Things

Eisenhower later modified his own position and the policies which he and Dulles had worked out toward a summit conference in the summer of 1959 in part at least as a result of Khrushchev's threats and pressures to change the status of West Berlin. Having met the Soviet premier in the 1959 summit conference at Geneva, Eisenhower invited him to visit the United States. The two men conferred at Camp David, Md., with the result that Khrushchev shelved for a while his threats against Berlin. Eisenhower agreed to a formal summit conference at Paris.

The Paris summit a year ago this month collapsed at the outset when Khrushchev turned a torrent of abuse against Eisenhower and branded him a false friend because of the U2 spy plane incident two weeks earlier.

Ike Only Target

The Paris fiasco ushered in a period of intense bitterness in U.S.-Soviet relations, but Khrushchev was careful to specify that his anger was directed mainly against Eisenhower as president and that he would not carry it over in his dealings with Eisenhower's successor. He canceled his invitation to Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union but spoke of inviting the next U. S. president.

When Kennedy was elected, Khrushchev switched tactics in his dealings with the new American leader, even though conflicts between the Soviet Union and the United States over such issues as Laos, Cuba and the United Nations continued. Diplomats said at the time that Khrushchev clearly was opening the way for a meeting with Kennedy, if Kennedy were willing.

The exchanges which led to Friday's announcement that the two men would meet actually began last February, a month after Kennedy's inauguration. U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson was summoned from Moscow for consultation and when he left Washington Feb. 22 to return to his post he bore a message from Kennedy expressing willingness to meet, if conditions were favorable, this spring or fall.

No Specific Conditions

According to information from official sources, Kennedy attached no specific political conditions to his willingness to meet.

Officials did emphasize that Kennedy conceives of the forthcoming talk with Khrushchev as a completely private and informal airing of U.S.-Soviet relations and the problems involved in them but not as a negotiation. Presumably before going into a formal Big Four summit conference with other leaders such as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle, Kennedy would want careful advance preparation and some evidence that the conference might produce constructive agreements.

Allaben Couple

Insurance Association, 276 Fair Street, told The Freeman that a ham was burning in the stove.

Baetz, who was sitting in the living room, told them he didn't feel very well. Suddenly, he passed out, Mrs. Munch said.

Dr. J. G. McKee of Phoenicia, who had been called, reached the home within a few minutes and began treating the couple. Gormley Ambulance of Phoenicia dispatched a vehicle to the home.

Dr. McKee believed at first that Mrs. Baetz may have suffered a stroke, but when he found that both she and her husband were affected he realized that there was probably some other explanation. He suspected that it might possibly be paint fumes or food poisoning.

In the meantime, Sidney Ford, Chief of Shandaken Fire Company, who lives near the Herdman home, arrived at the home. Diane Munch had reported the trouble at the Baetz home.

Ford discovered that the Baetz car, located in a garage below the living room and kitchen, had been left running and that fumes were rising into the house. The motor had stopped at the time, but the ignition was still on.

Mr. and Mrs. Baetz were rushed to the hospital where they were revived by oxygen.

Retired Last Fall

Baetz formerly worked for the Ulster Tool & Die Corporation of Kingston but retired last fall. Mrs. Munch said she and her father "felt" the carbon monoxide slightly but weren't in it long enough to become affected. She said she had just gotten home from work in Kingston when the telephone call came from Baetz.

Objected to Sale

Patrolmen Richard Scherer and George Dougherty investigated and reported the owner, not identified on police records, claimed he was trying to sell the rooster, which he said was a child's pet.

Yun Accedes

ruling military junta—or that they be replaced with generals acceptable to him.

Sources close to Magruder said the U. N. command feels that while use of troops in the successful coup did not weaken South Korea's defenses against the Communist North it undermined the authority the U. N. command has exercised since the start of the Korean War in 1950.

The new military regime decreed a strict anti-Communist measure, saying increased activities of the Communists and their sympathizers brought "clear and present danger to the nation's security."

Tightens Capitol Grip

Any Communist activity is outlawed in South Korea. The new measures are similar to those vainly sought by the ousted government and led to protest demonstrations.

Tightening its grip on the capitol, the junta fired elderly Seoul Major Kim Sang-don, replacing him with Brig. Gen. Yoon Tai-il, one of the five engineers of the coup.

Two days ago Yoon had been named commander of the front-line South Korean 4th Army. Several of ex-Premier Chang's cabinet ministers plus the chief cabinet secretary were picked up by MP's just before midnight and taken to prison.

as is "applicable" to the Stokes and Mercier allegations.

An attempt was made during the probe by Tompkins to have the two officials removed from office. That move was thwarted when the court ruled such proceedings under the Public Officers Law must be brought by the District Attorney or a citizen of the town involved. The matter was then turned over to the Ulster county district attorney's office, together with such evidence and facts as were possessed by the special prosecutor's office.

Final Report Not Filed

Tompkins told a Freeman reporter he had not filed his final report of the Ulster County probe with the attorney general's office or with the governor, but expected to file such a report shortly.

The report was being "held up" to ascertain what action was being taken in the Stokes and Mercier matter. Tompkins said his motion to make additional information available to the local district attorney's office had been prompted by a recent inquiry by the attorney general as to what was happening and why the final report had not been submitted.

It is believed the "additional testimony" referred to is that given by Morgan D. Ryan on his last appearance before the special grand jury shortly before he was sentenced under a charge of offering bribes while connected with a local road oil concern.

Drivers Held for Jury

NEWTON, N. J. (AP)—Two truck drivers have been ordered held for grand jury action after pleading innocent to manslaughter charges in the death of 18-year-old Joan Anna Tufano.

Miss Tufano's body was found by another truck driver beside Route 206 at Hainesville Thursday. Her death was attributed to a fractured skull.

Magistrate James Flynn ordered Robert H. Gibbs, 21, and David E. Power, 25, both of Newton, held Friday in $2,000 bail on the charges. State police said Gibbs and Power told that Miss Tufano fell to the road when a door of the pickup truck in which the three were riding flew open. The two men said they stopped and then became frightened and drove away.

heavily armed policemen.

Next Meeting Tuesday

The initial session lasted an hour and 40 minutes. The only announcement made by either side afterward was that the next meeting would be held here Tuesday.

There was a stir in Paris during the noon hour when the cable linking Evian and the capital failed. There was immediate fear of bomb sabotage but the cable was restored 45 minutes later and Evian reported all calm. There was no explanation why the cable failed.

Facing one another across the table were the Algerian nationalist foreign minister, Krim Belkacem, and the French minister for Algerian affairs, Louis Joxe.

Krim and his delegation arrived aboard three helicopters from across Lake Lemane in neutral Switzerland.

Joxe drove up in a black limousine, preceded by another carrying Jean Verdier, director of France's "Sudnet," and the nation's top policeman.

Both the rebel delegation and the French were serious faced and reserved as they arrived. The only hopeful note was the wave and faint smile of rebel delegate Tahib Boularouf as his helicopter circled over a group of newsmen.

The rebel helicopters carrying Krim's delegation landed on a heavily guarded strip some 300 yards from the Hotel du Parc, where the talks began.

French sources said that the talks opened with Joxe rising to make a long presentation of the French position.

In general, President Charles de Gaulle has instructed Joxe to negotiate for an Algeria that will be fully independent yet linked with France through cultural and economic ties and guarantee the safety of the one million Europeans living in the vast territory.

Many Obstacles

While both the French and rebels agree in principle that the future of Algeria should be decided through "self-determination" there are many major obstacles to putting the principle into practice. One such obstacle is whether or not the oil-rich Sahara is to be treated as an integral part of Algeria.

When Krim stepped down from the helicopter it was the first time he had ever touched the soil of metropolitan France.

His delegation from the Algerian government-in-exile commuted across Lake Geneva and the Swiss-French border to discuss on the French delegates' home soil the machinery for ending the years of guerrilla warfare in North Africa.

In Algeria and Paris, city streets were noisy with the bombings and gunfire of both violent European settlers opposed to the peace negotiations and Algerian rebels agitating against the French.

Nearly 30,000 troops and riot police guarded the port city of Algiers after a night of violence in which 23 bombs and grenades exploded.

The only reported casualties were two passengers injured by a grenade hurled in the streets of Bab-el-Oued, Algiers' worker section.

Oran Is Quiet

To the west, the city of Oran was reported quiet in the wake of a savage battle in the center of the city Friday night. Troops and police fought European settlers protesting against the opening of the peace talks.

Business in Algiers, usual storm center of European resistance to President Charles de Gaulle's policy for Algeria, was normal as dawn broke bright and sunny.

But downtown Algiers was a hubbub of jam as security forces searched automobiles and checked the identity of drivers. Parking was forbidden on the big main thoroughfare so that riot squads could move swiftly if violence broke out.

European settlers—angered because Switzerland is the host to the Algerian rebel peace delegation—invaded the Swiss consul's office in Oran Friday night and burned his files.

Heavily armed French troops broke up the mob after the rifle butts and tear-gas grenades of police could not cope with the demonstrators' stones, bricks and debris.

Cars Hit Utility Poles

Two automobiles were damaged overnight when the cars struck utility poles in the city, according to police. A 1955 car operated by Edward Stephen Butler, 28, of 83 Franklin Street, struck and snapped off a pole at Wilbur Avenue and Chapel Street, early today. On Friday afternoon a car operated by Saul S. Dicker, 20, of 532 Ocean Avenue, Oakdale, N. Y., struck a utility pole at Delaware Avenue near the entrance to Hasbrouck Park. The car was owned by Gladys Stemm, Elkhart, Ind.

J., who was admitted to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill Friday morning with injuries suffered when the tractor-trailer he was operating went out of control and smashed into a rock-cut on the Thruway about seven miles north of Catskill, was reported in fair condition this morning. Hayes apparently fell asleep at the wheel of the vehicle owned by Apex Trucking Company, Secaucus, N. J.

New Paltz Woman In Serious Condition

Miss Jennie Deyo, 83 of RD2, Old Kingston Road, New Paltz, who was rushed to Kingston Hospital Friday afternoon, is reported in serious condition today.

New Paltz Fire Department answered a call to Miss Deyo's home at 3:20 p. m. The alarm came as a result of defective wiring in a lamp cord, fire officials said.

Miss Deyo apparently suffered an attack during the excitement.

Business Week

Motor Co., said the prospects for the nation's economy and the automobile industry are much brighter now than during the first quarter.

The new car sales rate for the first 10 days of May showed a 14 per cent gain over the first third of April. Dealers sold 163,632 domestic cars, compared with 128,864 in the April period.

Production for the week was estimated at 128,945 passenger cars, a slight decline from the previous week's 129,530 but enough to put the year's output over the two-million mark.

T. F. Patton, president of Republic Steel Corp., predicted that steel production would rise in each quarter of this year and through the first half of 1962.

The industry expected to show its 10th consecutive weekly increase. In the previous week the output was 1,988,000 tons, about 68 per cent of capacity.

Republic Recalls 2,500

An increase in orders and shipments has caused Republic Steel to recall 2,500 employees to its Cleveland plant since the first of the year.

The stock market shot up to historic highs during a week in which developments in the financial world came thick and fast.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed to new highs. The D. W. Jones average of 30 industrial stocks spurted above 700 for the first time. These averages are made up of representative stocks, the so-called market wheelhorses.

But the public's feverish interest in low-priced stocks and new issues prompted the second warning in six weeks by Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, against unwise speculation.

Gain in Dividends

The Securities and Exchange Commission announced it would investigate practices on the smaller American Stock Exchange to determine if new regulations are needed. And the House Commerce and Finance subcommittee said it planned to investigate operations of the SEC, which oversees all stock exchanges.

The Commerce Department reported dividends paid by corporations in April totaled $914 million, a gain of $17 million over April 1960. For the first four months of this year dividends totaled $4.3 billion, up $700 million over a year ago. The bulk of the gain was in communications and electric and gas utilities.

Retail sales in the week ended Wednesday ran 10 per cent ahead of a year ago but included Mother's Day buying, whereas the comparable 1960 week didn't.

A major development in the retail field was the announcement by F. W. Woolworth Co. that it will establish a chain of discount department stores.

Food Prices Dip

Wholesale food prices dipped for the fifth consecutive week and reached a new 1961 low for the third time.

Stock volume for the week was 24,274,430 shares compared with 26,026,336 last week. Bond volume rose to $37,989,000 par value from $34,664,000 last week.

Khrushchev," Pelly said in a statement.

On the other hand, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he isn't worried about Kennedy's being able to hold his own.

Site JFK Disadvantage

"The President is well-informed unemotional and firm," Humphrey said. "He will give a good account of himself under any circumstances."

But among both Democrats and Republicans there was the feeling that Kennedy is going into the job at a disadvantage because of the Soviet man-in-space accomplishment. The Cuban invasion disaster and the situation in Laos.

Lt. Gov. Assails Democrats Over '5 Cent' Dollar

GOVERNEUR, N. Y. (AP) — One of the few areas in which Democratic leaders seem to agree is in "a passion to escape fiscal responsibility," Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson said today.

He said Democrats in New York and fought Republican Gov. Rockefeller's pay-as-you-go policy and the Democratic national administration was forecasting a budget deficit.

"The one thing that the Democrats in Washington and Albany appear to agree upon is that what this country needs is a good five-cent dollar," Wilson said.

His comments were made in a speech at the annual luncheon of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of St. Lawrence County.

Democrats have trouble agreeing with each other, Wilson said, in an apparent reference to that party's internal difficulties in New York State.

"There is one area, however," Wilson asserted, "in which Democrats do seem to find themselves in agreement—that is, in their passion to escape fiscal responsibility and plunge government into the red."

Wilson also was on the speaking program today for dedication of the Skyline Apartments, a new housing project for the aging in Watertown.

The lieutenant governor restated his policy that provision for the needs of the aging is primarily a family responsibility that "also quite properly a concern of government."

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

Education — Children of deceased veterans eligible for training under the Federal War Orphans Educational Assistance Act are advised to submit applications for benefits under this act during their senior year of high school. The applications which are signed by the parent or guardian of minor children should be submitted at least during the last semester of the senior year or as soon as possible thereafter. Applications submitted before the summer vacation starts usually will allow plenty of time for necessary processing and counseling which is mandatory under the law. Parents or guardians of eligible children not now attending high school who intend to go to college in the fall should also make application now or as soon as possible so that all arrangements can be finished before the beginning of the semester in which they plan to start under the WOEAA.

Dividends — A special GI insurance dividend amounting to $230 million is expected to be paid to some five million GI policyholders. Ex-servicemen who still have their GI insurance may expect to receive this special dividend during July and August. The dividend which will average about $46 is being paid to help the national economy.

Compensation — The administration has submitted a bill to Congress which proposes to raise the compensation rates received by veterans for service-connected disabilities. The proposed raise is five per cent. The percentage raise is proposed to offset the five per cent cost of living increase which has occurred since the last veteran compensation raise in 1957. The administration measure would raise the present wartime compensation rates of $19 a month for 10 per cent to $19.50 and the $225 a month for 100 per cent to $240 a month. The peacetime rates would be increased from $15 a month for 10 per cent to $15.50 and the $180 a month for 100 per cent to $192. Additionally a five per cent increase was requested in the amount paid for dependents.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, New York.

Farm-Labor Meet Slated Thursday At Clintondale

The Kingston office of the New York State Department of Labor, Division of Employment, announces its annual farm labor meeting in Clintondale at the Grange Hall Thursday at 8 p. m.

Sources of seasonal farm workers and regulations regarding their use will be discussed in detail.

All growers, especially those who use seasonal help, may attend and obtain the latest information available from local representatives of the various agencies involved. This meeting will present an opportunity for farmers to learn and make any necessary adjustments well in advance of the need for workers.

Other agencies represented will be the Social Security Administration, the Division of Industrial Relations from New York State Department of Labor, the Migration Division of Puerto Rico Labor Department, also the Board of Health and the Extension Service from Ulster County. Each representative will explain the services or responsibilities of his department. Growers will be given an opportunity to ask questions.

Health permits, migrant camp and crew leader registrations, child labor laws and changes in Social Security benefits will be discussed. The sources of labor and how to obtain southern migrants or contract workers from Puerto Rico will be explained.

Considerable interest was shown at a similar meeting last year when some 100 fruit and vegetable growers were in attendance.

Is Your House Buy-Appealing?

KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When the time for you to sell your house rolls around, you'll find there's mighty little expert information on how to go about it. I know. We just sold our house and it's like playing it by ear.

How do you go about coaxing the pampered buyer into pledging the earnest money?

Some of the pointers I learned may help if you must sell your house.

First, brace yourself for this pessimistic prophecy which your best friends will repeat often: "Hope you have better luck than old Bill and Mary. Their house has been on the market for eight months." We sold our home in eight days so I know it can be done.

Set a "realistic" price. This is a chilling procedure but remember you are selling a house, not the love, affection and good will you feel for it.

We arrived at a realistic price by taking what we paid for the house, adding the cost of capital improvements, evaluating the neighborhood (it has improved) and asking the real estate agent what he thought we could get. His answer, "Let's keep our fingers crossed," was not exactly reassuring either.

Pad the realistic price somewhat because this won't be the final price in all probability. In time, the real estate agent will return from a prospective buyer with an offer "we can all live with." This is real estate jargon for "they just knocked a thousand dollars off your price."

Your big job as homeowner is to get the house "ready to show." How much grooming will be needed depends on the condition of the house but a few dollars spent wisely can speed the sale.

A cynical painter, an old hand at fixing up houses to sell, advised me to get new light bulbs. "You don't need all this light," he explained. "Get 25 or 60 watt bulbs for those ceiling fixtures. That way people won't be able to see the bumps in the ceiling so clearly."

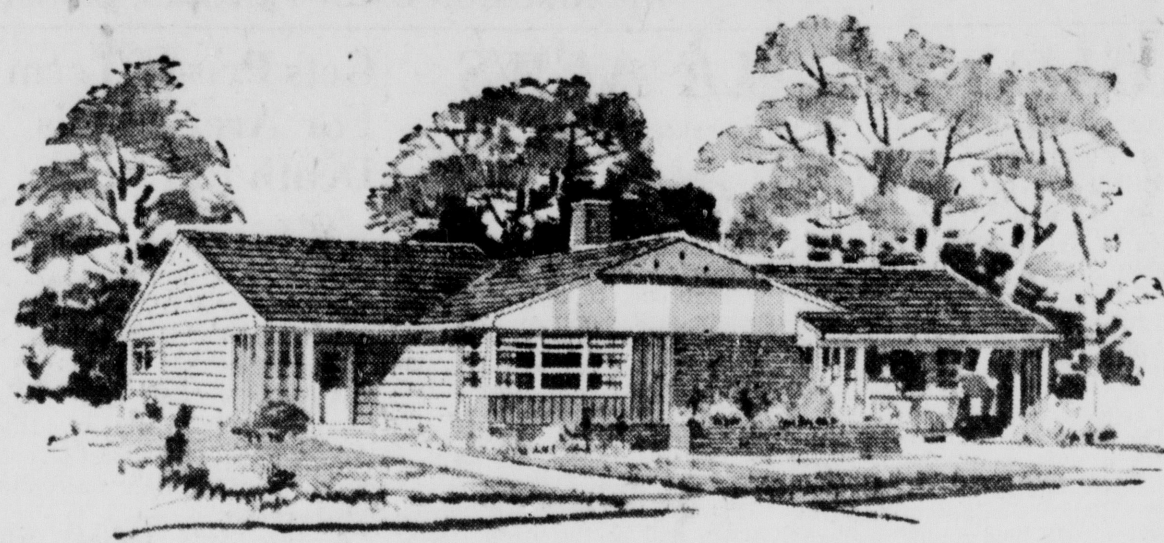

This advice started me on the long—and considerably dimmer—road to readying the house for show. Damaged plaster and cracks in the wall had to be spackled and taped.

Then, of course, the walls in one room had to be painted. Slap on a coat of light-colored paint advised the cynic, to make the place look larger.

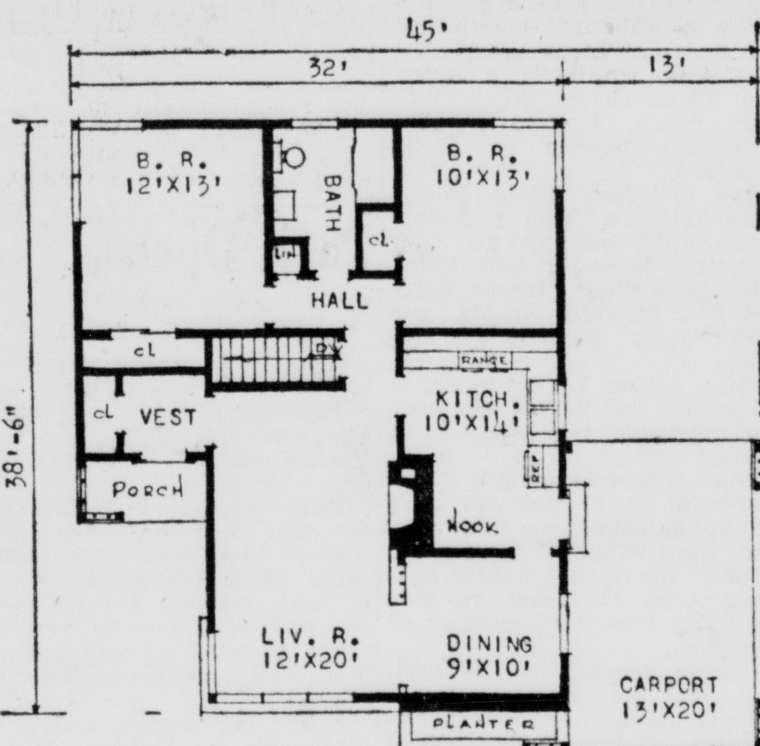

Our stair rail, a solidly practical chestnut brown, disappeared under a gleaming coat of white paint. Reluctantly, the children heard the command to keep hands off; drop their guns; stop sliding; down the bannisters. Working at top speed, we touched up with paint scarred window sills and gouged door jambs.

One point that buyers are nuts about is ample storage space. This is your cue to pick the clutter that jams cupboards and closets in cardboard cartons and hide them in the garage. When the prospect pokes into the closets, their comfortably empty appearance will imply more than adequate storage space. The same theory applies to the kitchen: keep counter tops cleared and cabinets lightly loaded.

When you cite the advantages of your location, think positively. This is no time to tell about the character across the street who gets drunk on Saturday. Talk about the worthy neighbors you have, the closeness of well-mannered playmates and the easy walk to the bus or train.

Big House Is Wrapped Up in Compact Package

(By Associated Architects)

Only 45 feet long, Associated Architects' new home plan, "The Gaylord," contains the same amount of living space as other ranch-type dwellings that run as much as 60 feet in length.

The explanation, of course, is that the plan is designed to take advantage of the depth of the building lot.

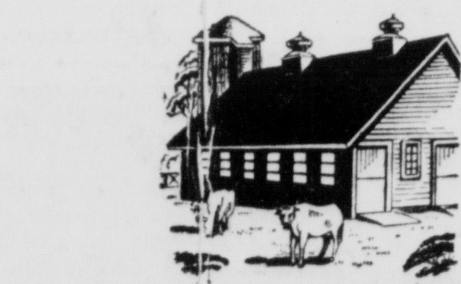

So you get the impression of a big home. Inside, this impression is enhanced by a sizable living room, full dining room and kitchen and two bedrooms, each with good closet space and ventilation.

Living and dining rooms form an "L," although they are separated by a short "wall" consisting of decorative shelving and screen. The 12 by 20 foot living room is just inside a vestibule which shields it very effectively against drafts. And to round out the living room the plan calls for an attractive corner window wall unit and a fireplace.

Not only is there a separate dining room in this home plan—there is also space in the kitchen for dining. Makes it easier

Wet Brush

Before you paint with rubber-base paint, dip your brush in water and squeeze it. This will make it easier to wash the brush afterwards. Paint hardens slower at the base of a wet brush than on a dry one.

Home Gardeners May Discover Breeds

Home gardeners may breed or discover very valuable new varieties to benefit the gardening world. The J. V. Edmonds of Albert Lea, Minn., should be thanked for the Giant Sensation type of cosmos, early and largest of all cosmos. He saved the seed and entered it in a national contest, where it won a silver medal upon introduction.

A private family cook in Los Angeles discovered or brought to light the double nasturtium. A preacher in Florida found the Dixie Sunshine or chrysanthemum-flowered marigold which, crossed with other types, started dozens of beautiful new marigold varieties.

Let Potted Plant Keep Its Place if Thriving

Potted plants that do well in a particular position are best left alone. To change them around without any special reason can only cause disturbance. On the other hand, specimens that fail to thrive in a particular place may need a change. Put them in another window and give them plenty of time to show whether they are better served there. The slower their natural rate of growth the more time must be allowed to permit any reaction.

Testing of Lacquer

To test lacquer, varnish or shellac for coloring properties, pour a small quantity over clear glass. If it shows an amber color, it will darken any finish or impart its color to clear wood. If a clear, protective coating is desired, it is best to use a water-white lacquer or bleached shellac.

Waterproof Coating

An uncoated brick structure will absorb moisture that can invade the inner walls and cause discomfort as well as costly damage. If adequately painted or given a clear waterproof coating, rain will be kept out, the structure will remain dry and warm and fuel will be saved.

Panel of Glass Block

A wall panel of glass block brightens a dark closet and provides daylight to help keep moths away from clothing. Even when placed in an interior wall, glass block "borrows" light from the adjoining room.

CP Industrial Chairman Named For Fund Drive

JAMES F. MALONEY

An executive of International Business Machines Corp., Kingston, James F. Maloney, has joined the Cerebral Palsy 1961 fund raising campaign as industrial chairman, it was announced today by Dr. Elbert F. MacFadden Jr., president of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc.

Maloney, who holds the post of salary administrator at IBM Federal Systems Division, Command Control Center, "will contribute his administrative abilities to the industrial phase of our drive," Dr. MacFadden declared, "and form a strong leadership team with county chairman Howard C. St. John, and city house-to-house Chairman Francis J. Vogt."

In accepting the responsibility, Maloney stressed the "crucial nature" of the services performed daily for 160 physically handicapped children at the CP Treatment Center, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

A father of four, Maloney pointed out that "no parent need fear the unknown if he suspects that his child is slow in developing physical abilities. Top professional knowledge and facilities are available right here at our own non-profit treatment center," he explained, "to diagnose, evaluate and, if necessary, to rehabilitate physical handicaps ranging from CP involvement to birth defects, post-polio complications, muscular dystrophy, and speech and hearing problems."

Maloney has been active in community service work ever since he became a resident of Kingston late in 1954. He is a member of the board of directors of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc., belongs to the Kingston Kiwanis Club and the Knights of Columbus, and is a past vice president of the Parent's Association, Academy of St. Ursula.

A graduate of Holy Cross College, he took his post-graduate work at Harpur College. During World War II he served with the Marine Corps for four years, and rose to the rank of major. He lives with his wife, Mary, and four children on Dirks Lane, Kingston.

Correct Bid Aids Partner

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What does third hand do when his partner's opening bid is doubled for take out?

The accepted best practice is that he should bid if he has anything worth showing and that any bid except a redouble should not be taken as a strength-showing bid.

Today's hand is a good example of the advantage such a bid can give the bidder. It was the deciding hand in an important team match some years ago.

At both tables West opened with one heart and North doubled. One East passed; the other bid two diamonds. Both South players bid two spades and both North players raised to four.

Both Wests cashed their two top hearts and then looked around for the proper lead to the third trick.

It was no problem for the man whose partner had bid two diamonds. He put the nine of diamonds on the table and South had to lose a diamond trick in addition to the ace of trumps and was down one.

The other West had a problem and went wrong. He led the jack of clubs.

This gave South a chance to draw trumps and get rid of North's two losing diamonds on his long clubs.

Royal Native Set To Make 1st Start In Aqueduct Race

William B. MacDonald Jr.'s Royal Native, the filly and mare champion of 1960, probably will make her 1961 stakes debut in the $50,000 added Top Flight Handicap at Aqueduct next Saturday. The Top Flight, a mile and a furlong for fillies and mares, starts off what could well be one of the greatest weeks of racing in New York history for, following the Top Flight, on Tuesday, Memorial Day, is the $100,000 added Metropolitan Handicap and then the following Saturday, June 3, comes the 93rd running of the $125,000 added Belmont Stakes.

However, before this big eight days, which starts with the Top Flight and winds up with the Belmont, there are two other stakes listed for this week. On Wednesday, is the $25,000 added Brighton Beach Handicap of a mile and five furlongs on the turf course and on Thursday, the 14th running of the Aqueduct National Hurdle Stakes.

Royal Native, who won this race last year, has been working well for the Top Flight but she'll have to run against fillies and mares who have the benefit of recent racing. Tops among these might well be Cain Hoy Stable's Make Sail. This filly is one who runs late and likes a distance of ground. There have been three filly and mare handicaps at this meeting and they have followed an orderly progression as to distance. Make Sail ran in all three and improved in each.

Make Sail was fourth in the Correction (6 furlongs), third in the Distaff (7 furlongs) and second in the Bed O'Roses (one mile). The added furlong of the Top Flight should help her chances.

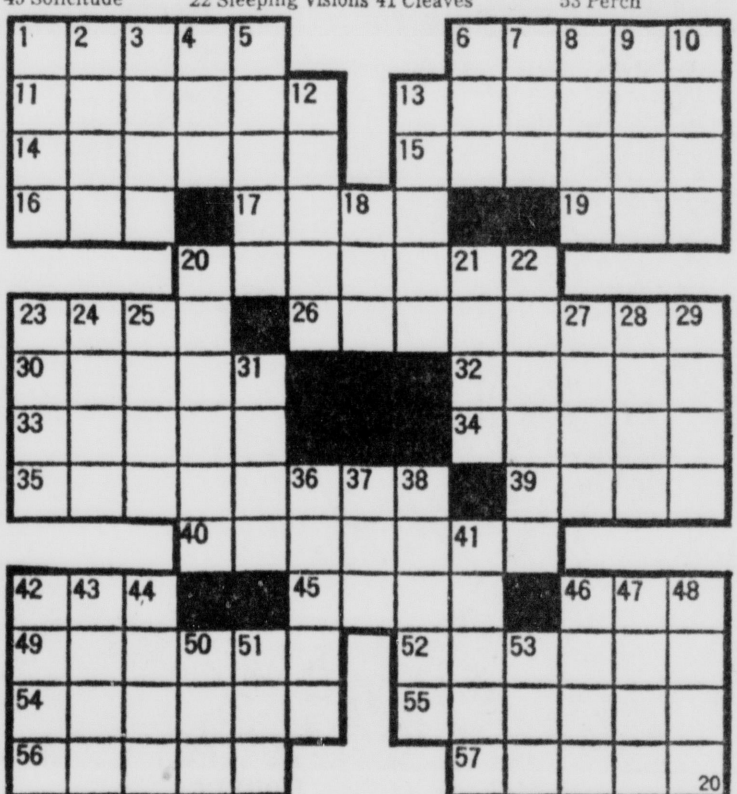

Also probable starters in the Top Flight are fillies which won two of the aforementioned races, Calumet Farm's Gate won the Bed O'Roses and Fred W. Hooper's Teacation was the winner of the Distaff. Calumet may well send out another to run as an entry with Prince's Gate, Sun Gint.

August Wedding Plans Are Being Made Here
By Catherine L. Horvers, Arthur H. Kahrs

CATHERINE LOUISE HORVERS

Mr. and Mrs. John Horvers of 9 Meadow Street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Louise, to Arthur Howard Kahrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kahrs of 421 Wilbur Avenue.

An August wedding is planned.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, submits the following article on floor wax:

The next time you're shopping for a floor wax, count the number available. There'll be quite a few—5, 10, 15, maybe more. Yet, despite the variety, each wax is one of two basic kinds—spirit solvent or water emulsion.

One advantage of the spirit solvent waxes is that they're not cumulative—they don't build up around the edges of a room. As their name implies, these waxes contain a solvent—turpentine, naphtha, or benzine, for example. When the wax is applied, the solvent dissolves the old wax and picks up the dirt contained in it. (It not only prevents the build up of old wax, but cleans as it waxes.)

Miss Jane Heath, instructor at the New York State College of Home Economics . . . at Cornell

University, points out that, in addition, these spirit solvent waxes give a very tough, water-resistant, long-lasting finish. However, they are not self-polishing—they require buffing.

Another disadvantage is that the spirit solvent softens asphalt and rubber tiles, damaging them. Fortunately the label cautions you against using the product on these materials. So the words, "Not recommended for asphalt or rubber tile," can help you identify a spirit solvent wax. Another clue to their identity is mention of a dry cleaning solvent, turpentine, naphtha, or benzine . . . or a warning that the mixture is combustible.

Hopefully we no longer need worry about freezing temperatures. But the phrase, "Keep from freezing," is of year-round importance when you buy wax for floors of raw wood or cork.

"Keep from freezing" . . . printed on a container of liquid wax . . . is your clue that the product contains water. If the water is applied to . . . or gets to . . . the bare wood, it will raise the grain and may darken the floor.

The problem may be more serious if the floor covering is of cork—even a well-sealed cork. As you know, cork is very porous, and will absorb the water. Drying problems may result. These are especially severe when the surface wax dries . . . sealing moisture underneath.

So, beware floor waxes bearing the words, "keep from freezing." If yours are floors of cork or raw wood.

On the other hand, these water emulsion waxes are just the ticket for asphalt and rubber tile floor coverings.

A Waxless Floor Wax

There's something new under the sun—a floor polish containing no wax. Although this product is an emulsion of a plastic resin, it is considered a water emulsion floor wax, and like it, is self-polishing.

Other outstanding advantages seem to be exceptional durability against scuffing, resistance to water marks, and minimum slipperiness. In addition, it will not yellow as waxes do.

These plastic resin products sometimes are described as a "waxless coating," a plastic resin finish, or "a fast-drying polymeric blend." The label may indicate that the product will not yellow.

Miss Jane Heath points out that these resin polishes also have the drawbacks typical of water emulsion floor waxes, for example, they are cumulative; if one coat is not completely removed before another coat is applied, the product will build up where there is little walking—in corners, near the walls, and under furniture.

Since the product does contain water, it should not be used on floor covering of raw wood and cork.

A BADLY NEEDED LESSON

Q: I would appreciate your help on the following matter: I am 17 years old and on Sunday morning I usually go to church with my boy friend, after which he comes home with me for breakfast. Last Sunday, breakfast was not quite ready when we arrived and so I set about to help my mother. My boy friend went into the living room to read the newspaper. When I told him that breakfast was ready, he came into the dining room with the newspaper in his hand and continued reading. I was very much annoyed over this and in self-defense I picked up part of the paper and started to read too. When my mother came into the dining room, she promptly took the paper away from me and then went over to my boy friend and did the same thing saying, "I'm sorry but in this house we don't read the paper at the table."

My boy friend was highly indignant over this and thought my mother very rude. I told him that I thought she was perfectly right and he was the one who was rude. Will you please tell me if my mother was wrong to have taken the paper from him?

A: Your boy friend's taking the paper into the dining room any counting to read it at your mother's table was so astoundingly rude, that he deserved to have it taken away from him and she was entirely justified in doing so.

Leaving A Party Early

Q: When meeting a group of people at a friend's house for the first time, and I have to be the first to leave, should I go to each one to say good-bye and tell them individually how much I enjoyed meeting them? Would it be impolite to leave without saying good-bye?

A: On leaving a party of any size you say quietly to anyone you are talking with, "I'm sorry I have to go now, it was nice meeting you, and leave without saying good-bye to the others, which might start them all leaving and break up the party."

A Girl's Hope Chest

Q: From whom does a girl receive her hope chest? Do her parents buy it for her, or does her fiancé give it to her after they are engaged?

A: The girl's parents buy the hope chest.

Fluid Prices Hold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices producers are receiving for fluid milk in city markets are holding at year ago levels.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that prices paid for Class I fluid milk in markets under federal regulation in early May averaged $5.20 a hundred pounds, or one cent above a year ago, but 12 cents above the 1955-59 May average.

But sales of fluid milk in these markets was said to be running about seven-tenths of 1 per cent below a year ago.

More Jobs Is Key

NEW YORK (AP)—The key to equal opportunity for all races is more jobs, says Gov. Rockefeller, speaking Friday night at a banquet of the United Young Republican Club, said his party offers "the opportunity, the hope and the confidence in the future that will allow all people to realize their own full development as individuals."

Former U. S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers was presented an award by the club, which has its headquarters in Harlem.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Academy

Oscar remains his handsome self, but Emmy seems to get prettier every year. This week's Television Academy show saw her at her best.

Over Awkwardness

That doesn't mean she can't improve—no 13-year-old is perfect. But at least Emmy has passed the awkwardness of the early years and seems on the brink of maturity.

The entertainment portion of Tuesday night's program was handled about as brightly as it could be. But the whole thing would have been for naught if the awards had not been apt. Which they generally were.

There can be no real quarrel with the choices. Certainly "Macbeth" deserved its multiple victory, since it added a touch of greatness to a lackluster season. Its sponsor, Joyce C. Hall, certainly deserved the special bravo from the academy trustees. If only there were more like-minded sponsors!

Fred Astaire is always a popular choice, especially when his perfectionism is compared with the slapdash specials of other big names. The Huntley-Brinkley twins are the biggest thing in the news line, and Twentieth Century puts out shows of continuous quality.

Raymond Burr is TV's hardest-working actor and his work never fails to convince. Barbara Stanwyck was a fine choice as best series actress; she is skillful in any role. Her show deserved a better fate than to be dumped after one season.

Holds Out for Hope

You can't argue with the awards to Leonard Bernstein and Rod Serling. But there might be a little carping in the humor category. This is not to detract from Jack Benny, master of comedy. But he already has a shelf full of Emmies while Bob Hope has none. This omission must be corrected.

Saugerties Defeats Beacon, 5-2, in DCSL Struggle

Good Relief Job By Fury Saves Victory for Mills

Mike Fury stopped a Beacon threat in the seventh inning and Saugerties High beat the home side, 5-2, in a DCSL game yesterday at the Southern Dutchess field.

Saugerties starter Keith Mills was breezing with a 5-1 lead starting the seventh. However, he walked three batters with one out and Coach Bill Straub summoned Fury from the bullpen. He walked a batter to force in a run but then nailed down the win for Mills by retiring the side.

The Sawyers, who are now 10-3 for the season, trailed 1-0 until the third when they scored four times. A walk to Jerry Ollinger and an error with one out started the rumpus.

Dick Marelli doubled and on an overthrow to third base he scored. John Nolan's two base hit got in the other marker.

Mills, a towering junior righty, walked seven and struck out nine in his tenure on the hill. Starter Richie Lunford took the loss. He and teammate Bob Wright walked off the field in the fourth inning after the bench jockeying became too rough for them. They couldn't take it.

Jaycee Jays Topple Hawks

George Dougherty hurled a three hit shutout and fanned 10 batters as the Jays whitewashed the Hawks, 8-0, in a Jaycee Little League game last night.

A big innings made the victory a breeze. The only Hawk who came close to scoring was Bruce Gilligan. He rapped a double but was left stranded at third.

The Indians scored eight times in the first two innings and easily defeated the Giants, 8-4, in a Town of Ulster Little League game yesterday. Darkness halted the contest after five frames.

Al Whitmore went the distance for the Indians, allowing only two hits. One was a homer by Paul Koeppen, the hard hitting shortstop. Robert Nerone doubled

Indians Top Yanks With Rally

The Cleveland Indians rallied for five runs in the eighth inning and defeated the New York Yankees 9-7 Friday night. It was the third straight loss for the Yankees and left them five games behind the American League leading Detroit Tigers, who were idled by cold weather at Boston.

Cleveland and Minnesota, tied for third, edged within .004 percentage points of New York, with the Twins belting Kansas City 11-1. Baltimore defeated Washington 4-2 and the last place Los Angeles Angels, after losing seven in a row, swept a two-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and 5-3.

The Yankees backed starter Bob Turley and Luis Arroyo, the first of the relievers, with home runs by Roger Maris, Yogi Berra and Hector Lopez at Cleveland and had a 7-4 lead going into the eighth. Then the Indians came up with four consecutive hits, the fourth a tying two-run single by Chuck Essegian off losing reliever Tex Clevenger (3-2). The deciding run was forced home when Jim Coates hit Woody Held with a pitch with the bases loaded.

Vic Power, who had three of Cleveland's 15 hits, closed the scoring by stealing home — his first steal of the season — as the Indians beat the Yanks for the first time in 13 decisions going back to last July 10. Barry Latman (3-0) won it in relief.

The Twins blasted Kansas City's winning streak at five games as Dan Dobbek belted a pair of home runs, the first a grand slam that wrapped it up in a six-run third inning against Ed Ralow (0-1). Don Mincher also homered for the Twins while southpaw Jack Kralick won his fourth, against one defeat, with a seven-hit job.

Baltimore, after losing five in a row, replaced Kansas City in fifth place while ending the Senators' winning streak at five. The Birds did it with a three-run eighth inning—and they got 'em all without a hit, scoring the three on six walks by loser Tom Sturdivant (2-3) and relievers Dave Sisler and Marty Kutyna. Hoyt Wilhelm (5-1) won it with two hitless innings of relief.

The Angels won the opener on home runs by Steve Bilko and Gene Leek, with Leek's shot breaking a 3-3 tie in the sixth against reliever Russ Kemmerer (0-2). Right-hander Jerry Casale, who had lost 12 in a row, three this year, was the winner. Ryne Duren, once the Yankees' bullpen prince, saved both games for the Angels, who took the nightcap on Earl Averill's two-run homer in the third off Bob Shaw (3-2). Duren pitched 1 2/3 innings of hitless relief in the opener, then nailed the second game for Ken McBride (2-2) with two innings of no-hit, shutout relief.

Palmer, Player to Participate In International Cup Matches

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Writer
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Stan Leonard have full intentions of playing in the International Cup matches, the Associated Press learned today.

The matches are set for San Juan, Puerto Rico, June 1-4, the same day as the Memphis Open which last June signed a Professional Golfers Association contract.

Memphis officials are insisting that Palmer, as U.S. Open champion; Player, because he has been a PGA tour winner this year, and Leonard, victor in the Western Open in Detroit last July, fulfill their PGA contracts to play in Memphis.

Palmer will represent the United States with Sam Snead as his partner. They won the team title last year in Dublin. Snead needed only PGA permission to play in Puerto Rico and received it.

New Paltz Wins, 13-0; Highland Nips Onteora

Roaring towards the championship, New Paltz batters rapped nine base hits and won a 13-0 victory over Rondout Valley in a UCAL match yesterday at the winners' diamond.

The winners scored five times in the third frame and six more in the fourth to give starter Biff Longfield a good working margin. He turned over the hurling chores to Woody Osterhoudt in the sixth and he finished the whitewash job.

Outfielder Glen Moore had a perfect day for the Huguenots of Coach Joe Heloski with four straight singles. Ken Freer had a pair of hits and scored three times.

Lynn Johnson and Keith Johnson divided the three hits the Ganders were able to muster off the combined offerings of Longfield and Osterhoudt.

A salesman was making his pitch on an electric dishwasher to a housewife:

"Madam, if you buy this dishwasher it will help you to save the cost of a maid. You will be saving money every month."

The housewife replied: "Well, I am not so sure we can buy it. We bought a television set to save movie and entertainment expense. Last week we bought an automatic washer to save laundry bills. You know, I think we are saving about as much as we can afford."

Final Monitors' Course Is Tuesday

A final session for the Radiological Monitors representing the American Legion Posts in Ulster County will be held Tuesday, May 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Supervisors Room, Ulster County Court House, 285 Wall Street. This session will consist of an intensive review of the radiological instruments used in a fixed station. Those volunteers who have missed a previous meeting should attend this fourth session in order to learn first-hand how the radiological instruments should be used.

In due time, each of 10 Posts registered in the course will be visited to ascertain the attenuation of the Post and its suitability for a fixed station. Following this inspection, a kit containing the essential radiological equipment will be issued to the Post. The trainees will be responsible for checking and maintaining the instruments. Repairs of inoperable equipment and procurement of batteries will be routed through the Ulster County Office of Civil Defense.

Timely pertinent information will be issued to those who registered for the course to update knowledge of fallout measurement. From this training program our country will develop a capability to monitor fallout in the event of a nuclear disaster and provide the intelligence to survive such disaster.

Texas Area Hit By 7-Inch Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pattern of torrential rains and thunderstorms that caused flash flooding in normally dry portions of western Texas and Arkansas late Friday gave way to scattered showers and drizzle during the night.

Shower activity lingered in an area from western Nevada and northern Texas Panhandle, however, with scattered drizzle and fog through the central Plains, portions of the northern Plains and the central and upper Mississippi Valley.

Rainfall was generally light during the night and the rest of the country had generally fair to partly cloudy weather with temperatures ranging from the 40s and 50s in the North to the 60s and 70s in the South.

As much as seven inches of rain fell in northwest Texas in Friday's deluge with neighboring areas measuring four inches in a 24-hour period.

The downpour sent the Conch River over its banks and into residential areas near Sterling, Tex., while Springdale, Ark., was hit by its worst flooding in years when a four-inch soaking pushed creeks and streams out of their beds.

Hail and high winds accompanied the thunderstorms, uprooting trees and snapping utility lines. Some tornadoes were sighted in northwest Texas but none were known to touch ground.

Span Leap Balked, Man on Probation

Accused of attempting to leap from an iron bridge on Route 28 into Esopus Creek on Friday, Robert Vincent Stokes, 36, of 124 Hurley Avenue, today pleaded guilty before City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Stokes was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and placed on probation.

According to police, Detective Charles McCullough and Trooper Charles Teelon were notified by a motorist that a man was clinging to the outer rail of the bridge on the Washington Avenue viaduct and threatening to leap.

The motorist said a woman was trying to prevent the leap. The woman, who appeared in court with Stokes, was not identified.

McCullough, who was off duty at the time and Teelon hurried to the bridge and pulled Stokes to safety. Police said the incident caused a traffic tieup.

Leon Leroy Washington, of 246 Catherine Street, was arrested by Patrolman Floyd Krom on the assault charge lodged by Gladys Jones, 17 West Strand, who told authorities the defendant assaulted her at her home.

Investigation resulted in the second charge involving alleged possession and use of an air pellet pistol.

But Fidel's Role as Leader Is Fading

Destruction of U. S. Without Global War Castro Objective

DEFECTS—Juan Orta, top aide of Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro, has sought political asylum in Havana's Venezuelan embassy. Friends say Orta, who founded Castro's 26th of July Movement in Miami in 1958, had become disillusioned with his former idol's pro-Communist policies.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A powerful minority, with a fading picture of Fidel Castro as leader, rules Cuba now.

This minority, born out of the nucleus of well-trained Cuban Communists who went into the hills with Castro to support his revolution against deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista in 1958, is bent on carrying the new revolutionary dogma to every corner of Latin America.

Fidel's Role Uncertain

The objective: eventual destruction of "imperialism," the Socialistic term for the United States, without global war.

What part Fidel Castro personally will play in this is questioned by many.

These are the impressions gathered by this reporter from influential Cuban politicians, professionals, trained observers and the man-in-the-street during a 25-day imprisonment in one of Cuba's most ill-famed penitentiaries—La Cabana, military fortress.

Together with 51 other American repatriates and about the same number of other passengers, we rode to freedom Friday from Havana.

Hopeful of Return

The majority seemed hopeful of returning to a "free Cuba" someday. But most all were at a loss to explain how, or when.

This question was no mystery to the nearly 2,000 Cubans left in La Cabana when I left the military jail last May 12. To a man they were sure either direct American intervention or an invasion by the Organization of American States would liberate them.

They seemed to have discarded any hope of an internal upheaval would liberate them.

They knew that the abortive April invasion had destroyed a well-organized underground poised with smuggled arms to strike the minute an invasion came.

"They didn't tell us," bitterly cried one underground movement man in prison. "They ruined us and months and months of work, money and material are gone just because they didn't tell us they were coming. What's wrong with you people?"

Death Noted Right

La Cabaña appeared populated by the top-ranking people of the nation. There were no less than 25 doctors—some hemisphere-renowned specialists—in our prison, but hardly any aspirin to ease a common cold.

A well-known Havana lawyer died of pneumonia May 10 despite repeated calls on the prison commandant that a man was seriously ill in a cell. But his death served to call attention to our plight. The next day aspirin and some penicillin were available to combat an epidemic of influenza that was still raging when I left the prison.

The lawyer who died—Dr. Enrique Guiralt—was among countless thousands rounded up starting April 15 in what possibly was the biggest detention of human beings in hemisphere history. The exact figure of prisoners may never be known. Estimates ranged upwards of a quarter million.

A civilian engaged by secret police to count prisoners in the area of headquarters, told us privately he had often heard the figure of "over 147,500" detainees in Havana alone.

Results May Brew Storm

The militia and the way it worked in the first days after the April 15 bombing of Havana's military airport seemed to prove a point often brought up by students of the Cuban scene: that it was organized for the specific purpose of rounding up suspicious

EDITORS NOTE — Robert Berrellez, Associated Press correspondent in Havana, imprisoned during the abortive Cuban invasion, flew back to the United States Friday night with the first plane load of repatriated Americans. Here is his report on the present situation in Cuba.

Shepard Planes To West Coast, Mum on Flight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard and a fellow astronaut arrived in a jet trainer Friday night but they would say little about their presence here.

"It's just a routine flight. We just want to get in some practice," said Shepard, who rode a missile capsule 115 miles high and 300 miles downrange at Cape Canaveral May 5.

With him as co-pilot aboard the T33 trainer was Air Force Capt. Donald Slayton.

Reporters asked how long they would be here.

"We might go back in an hour," said Shepard. But he and Slayton rode off in a car with a man wearing an Airessearch Co. jacket. Airessearch is an aircraft service firm at International Airport.

Shepard had checked over the plane after landing. When photographers took his picture, he said, "That wasn't nice, was it, fellows?" From then on he said not a word in reply to newsmen's questions.

Most of Gary's Estate Left to Family, Mother

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Gary Cooper left most of his estate, believed to be worth more than $1 million, to his widow, daughter and mother.

His will, signed last Feb. 27, when he knew he was dying of cancer, was filed Friday in Superior Court for probate. The screen star died last Saturday at age 60.

The will leaves Cooper's widow, Veronica, half the estate, including his interest in their home. From the other half it bequeaths $5,000 each to a brother, Arthur Cooper; a nephew, Howard Cooper; and a niece, Georgia C. Burton; $1,000 to Our Lady of Gethsemane Abbey in Kentucky and $10,000 to the Motion Picture Relief Fund, Inc.

The remainder goes into a trust for Mrs. Cooper, their daughter Maria and the actor's mother, Alice L. Cooper.

Brooklyn Man May Head CWV State Voting Due Today at Clinton

A Brooklyn man is in line for the top post in the New York State Department, Catholic War Veterans, which is holding its annual convention at Governor Clinton Hotel.

Francis X. McBarron, Kings County, first state vice commander, was still unopposed for the post of state commander at noon today.

Elections will be held late this afternoon.

The present state commander is Augustus J. Poletto of Albany County.

A final banquet and dance will be held tonight at the hotel with Frank Volto, director of New York State Veterans Affairs as principal speaker.

It was reported that the Kingston Post Bowling Team won the tournament at Ferraro's Bowladrome last night, Albany County was announced as winner of the award for the largest county membership in the 32,000 member state organization.

Some 1,500 delegates are expected to be in Kingston this afternoon for the election and banquet.

St. Ignace's Post 1769 of Kingston is host for the convention.

Past Commanders Here

Past State Department commanders attending the convention are Charles Shelley, Kings County, a national trustee; Dr. James F. Slevin, Suffolk County commander, and William D. Walzer, Bronx County, time and place chairman, who handles details in connection with the choice of the next convention city.

The 1960-61 State Department officers are:

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph R. Koch, Kings County, chaplain; State Commander Poletto; Francis X. McBarron, first vice commander; James P. McBride, Queens County, second vice commander; Martin J. O'Reilly, Kings County, third vice commander; Raymond J. Boulter, Albany County, adjutant; James Carney, Nassau County, treasurer; Cyril McDermott, Westchester County, judge advocate; Mrs. Marie Silver, Queens County, welfare officer; Frank J. Rocky Is One of Greatest, Morhouse Tells Young GOP

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Nelson A. Rockefeller, in state office less than 30 months, ranks as one of the great governors of New York, GOP State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse says.

Morhouse said Friday night that the Republican governor "is providing New York today with aggressive and progressive leadership of the same quality and magnitude" as former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Democratic Govs. Alfred E. Smith and Herbert H. Lehman.

The state chairman told the 29th annual convention of State Young Republicans that Rockefeller inherited a $700-million budget-balancing deficit.

Rockefeller placed the state on a sound pay-as-you-go fiscal basis in one year by readjusting the tax structure, he added, but the readjustment was a difficult decision.

The Young Republicans named 18-year-old Michelle Allikas Miss Young GOP of New York State.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allikas of Mamaroneck, will represent the state next month in the national contest at Minneapolis.

Arthur M. Richardson of Rochester was slated to be elected this afternoon to a second term as president of the state organization.

Rep. William E. Miller of Niagara Falls, a top contender to succeed Sen. Thurston Morton as chairman of the Republican National Committee, will address the closing session of the two-day convention tonight.

Apalachin Costs U. S. $1 Million, N. Y. Solon Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Apalachin, N. Y., crime convention of November 1957 cost the government over $1 million, Rep. John J. Rooney, R-N.Y., says the money was "just plain wasted."

And, in testimony made public today by the House Appropriations Subcommittee Rooney heads, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said his department is taking steps to prevent a recurrence of the episode.

He described the 60 men who attended the convention as top underworld figures from around the country.

Rooney said it cost the taxpayers $400,000 "for a superduper crowd of young lawyers who did not know the first thing about criminal law."

Costs of the convention to the FBI and other investigative agencies boosted the total federal cost to about $1 million, Rooney said, adding:

"We are all for putting these racketeers and hoodlums behind bars but I hope that we will not have a silly situation like that again."

Paris Opens Peace Talks With Rebels

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France (AP)—France and the Algerian rebels opened peace talks today and the De Gaulle government made two-day conciliatory gestures.

1. French forces in Algeria were ordered to cease at 6 p. m. all offensive operations against the rebels they have been fighting for almost seven years.

Patrols to Continue

2. Algerian rebel chieftain Ahmed ben Bella was flown from a fortress prison the Ile d'Aix to a site closer to the peace talks in this Lake Geneva resort city.

It was reported from Algeria that word has already been passed to the 500,000 soldiers in the territory to fire only in self defense. It was understood that patrols would continue in the territory, but only for reconnaissance purposes.

Paris said that its cease-fire orders would remain in effect for a month and would then be reconsidered in the light of developments at the peace talks. While the cease-fire order barred offensive actions, it did not bar the pursuit of rebels making attacks themselves.

Ben Bella was taken off the island in the Bay of Biscay by helicopter along with his companions Hocine ait Ahmed and Mohamed Khidder. All three men had been seized in 1956 when their Moroccan airliner en route to Tunisia was intercepted by French fighter planes over the Mediterranean and forced to land at Algiers.

The improved conditions ordered for the three men will allow them to contact the rebel delegation in Geneva by telephone. At some later stage Ben Bella may also be allowed to sit in on the peace talks.

Three other imprisoned rebel leaders were also taken from Fresnes Prison in Paris this morning.

The long awaited peace negotiations opened here in a secluded hotel guarded by hundreds of

Uneasiness Apparent Over Talk Solons Thinking Of Paris Debacle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress are keeping their fingers crossed about the outcome of the forthcoming meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Beneath the expressions of support for Kennedy and the generally cautious optimism reflected in comment, there is a core of uneasiness about what might happen at Vienna.

Democrats Confident

This seems to be based primarily on the unpredictability of Khrushchev and his demonstrated ability to make propaganda out of almost any occasion. Nobody has forgotten his breakup of the Paris conference a year ago nor his abusive treatment of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Some Republicans obviously wonder how Kennedy would cope with some similar incidents. Most Democrats think he will be able to take care of himself.

In this connection, Rep. Thomas M. Foley, R-Wash., said Democratic leaders ought to try to persuade Kennedy to call off the conference.

"We should not send an apprentice president to deal with a wily, seasoned, world-wise leader like Khrushchev," he said.

Law Gets Assist, Freeman Scribe Finds Stolen Car

An automobile reported stolen in Poughkeepsie at 11:15 p. m. Friday, was recovered this morning by a Kingston Freeman reporter on his way to work.

James L. Davis, of Cream Street, Town of Poughkeepsie, told police his sedan was stolen from the Garden Street parking lot. Within five minutes after Walter S. Clark, Jr. of 10 Street Avenue, Poughkeepsie, a Freeman reporter, was told of the car theft by Lt. George Trave, the newsman found the vehicle in a parking lot at the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge.

Police were notified and the car was taken back to Poughkeepsie.

Business Week in Review

BY JACK LEFFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Economists and industrialists raised their sights during the week on the expected extent of the business recovery.

Improvement in personal incomes, factory sales, steel production and automobile sales spurred the optimism.

The regenerative forces on the economy are being restored and strengthened," said Walter H. Heller, chief economic adviser to President Kennedy.

He asserted that any doubt about a brightening of the business picture disappeared with a 2 1/2 per cent advance in the industrial production index from March to April.

And he predicted the country's

World Hopes, Cautious Of Results in Vienna

LONDON (AP)—The world hoped today the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Austria two weeks from now would ease international tension. But there was caution, about expecting any momentary results.

"It's the Vienna Waltz," said the conservative London Daily Sketch over a cartoon showing the U. S. President and the Soviet premier dancing together.

Humanity at Stake: Indian

India's philosopher-statesman, Vice President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, said the future of humanity is at stake in these cruel times.

"One of our ancient scriptures tells us that when danger is near, salvation also is near," he said in a New Delhi banquet speech that put the moral support of his neutral nation behind the coming meeting.

He spoke at a state dinner for visiting U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told reporters that to meet Kennedy "is a salutary experience for anybody, and we hope very much that good will come out of this meeting."

Kennedy will call at London for talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan after his meeting with Khrushchev June 3-4.

No DeGaulle Comment

There was no direct comment from French President Charles de Gaulle. Members of his official family said he had neither any objections nor any enthusiasm for the meeting. Kennedy will meet with De Gaulle in Paris and go quietly from there to see Khrushchev.

The government press bureau in Bonn said West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer welcomes the meeting and thinks Khrushchev and Kennedy should get to know one another personally.

The Japanese foreign office also approved of the summit meeting as a chance to slacken world tension.

Yugoslavia Hopeful

A Yugoslav spokesman said the Tito government hopes the conference will contribute to peace and better cooperation.

The British press unanimously applauded the meeting plan. The London Daily Express said the day since an American and a Soviet leader last met has been too long and unprofitable.

Yun Accedes, Will Stay as President

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Bowling to peace of rebel generals, President Yun Po-sun today withdrew his one-day old resignation to give South Korea's new military regime constitutional status.

The elder statesman, 63, announced he had agreed to stay on as the civilian figurehead chief of state to avoid "international repercussions."

Foreign diplomats are accredited to the president and U. S. officials take the view that Yun remaining in office would make recognition of the new regime automatic.

The president announced withdrawal of his resignation at a news conference flanked by the two top leaders of the ruling junta—Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, who named himself premier and defense minister earlier in the day, and Maj. Gen. Pak Jung-hi.

Gen. Chang, 38, in taking over as premier named a 15-man cabinet—all military men.

The presence of the revolutionary leaders at his side did not stop Yun from expressing regrets about the revolt that overthrew the elected government.

The military coup detail seems to give the people many encouraging hopes for the future although it was quite regrettable and I wish it had never occurred in this country," he said.

And he warned that he would resign again if the new regime takes a direction of which he disapproves.

Round Up Opposition

In lightning raids during the night South Korea's military rulers jailed members of deposed Premier John M. Chang's cabinet and generals who refused to back Tuesday's coup.

The ousted premier, 61, reportedly talked himself out of arrest. He defied military police trying to take him to prison and demanded they produce a warrant signed by junta leader, Gen. Ghang.

U. S. Gen. Carter Magruder, the supreme United Nations commander in Korea, reportedly has demanded that South Korea military units which defied him in overthrowing the elected government return immediately to their positions.

Says U. N. Undetermined

An authoritative source also disclosed Magruder has insisted that South Korea's new military leaders restore to their posts a number of top generals purged by the

Some Cheer, Many Are Quiet on Cuba Return

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The first American prisoners repatriated from Fidel Castro's Cuba, including the last U.S. newsmen there, arrived in Miami Friday night — some glad, some fighting mad and some fearfully silent.

Fifty-two Americans were in the group of 101 passengers who arrived aboard a chartered airliner. Also aboard were 46 Cuban refugees.

The Americans included four newsmen, five Catholic priests and three nuns.

Churchmen aboard the plane included Father Lorenzo Spirali, founder of Villanova University; Father Edward McCarthy, prior of Hulmeville and Father Emelio Castro.

Other repatriates were Grace Diamond, mother of Miami City Commissioner Joseph N. Dimond; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinsey of Fort Pierce, Fla.; Henry Sanz of Miami and Wellington Swearingen, retired farmer from Moorland, Ind.

"I came out with a small zipper bag containing all the possessions remaining to me from a three-bedroom apartment in Havana," Milks said.

"Everything else, clothes, furniture, dishes and prized possessions gathered in more than 20 years as a foreign correspondent were left in the hands of Castro's militiamen."

Mrs. Phillips said she learned only 10 minutes before the plane departed that she could leave. She appeared exhausted.

Reds May Ask JFK To Russia

Approach Change From Ike, Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's meeting with Premier Khrushchev at Vienna next month may be the first of a series of U. S.-Soviet summit level talks extending over the years of the Kennedy administration.

How the relationship between the two men develops will depend much on the impressions they make upon each other in their conference in the Austrian capital, June 3 and 4. But it is already apparent that Kennedy's whole approach to talking with Khrushchev is quite different from that which has prevailed in other U. S. administrations since World War II.

May Ease Tensions

The central element in Kennedy's attitude appears to be a conviction that top level talks with the leader of the Communist bloc are desirable and may be useful in easing East-West tensions provided the atmosphere in which they are held is reasonably favorable to calm discussion of outstanding world issues. Some administration officials now say that such meetings should be regarded as normal and should be considered worthwhile even if they fail to produce spectacular positive results.

Already there is speculation in diplomatic quarters that if the Vienna discussions go smoothly Khrushchev may invite Kennedy to visit the Soviet Union. The center of this speculation is Geneva where Secretary of State Dean Rusk met Friday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Discuss Other Problems

The two foreign ministers talked over plans for the Vienna meeting as well as the problem of Laos, which is the subject of a 14-nation conference at Geneva. The substance of their exchange was not disclosed but press dispatches quoted diplomatic sources at Geneva as pointing out that Khrushchev visited the United States in September 1959 and owes an invitation to an American president to visit the Soviet Union.

During most of the Eisenhower administration the former president and the late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, resisted summit conferences pressures on the ground there must first be assurance of positive agreement lest failure to reach agreement at the summit should increase East-West tensions.

President Harry S. Truman met with dictator Joseph Stalin at Berlin at the end of the war in Europe but during the rest of the Truman administration there

Castro Sending Prisoners To Set Up Ransom of 1200

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A committee of prisoners captured in the recent invasion of Cuba will be sent to the United States Sunday to arrange for the ransom of their companions, Prime Minister Fidel Castro said today.

Castro, speaking on television from Havana, said the 1,200 prisoners captured in the April 17 attack would be exchanged "in increasing order of importance" for 500 bulldozers.

The Cuban prime minister said he had reports that the United States was considering dealing through the Red Cross, but that this was not necessary. "We don't need intermediaries," he said, adding, "Mr. Kennedy now has the floor."

When he made the disclosure, Castro had been in the midst of a speech to Cuban government officials, foreign diplomats and unionists. They were attending a meeting to celebrate his winning of the Lenin Peace Prize.

He also startled his audience when he said the Cuban navy had evidence that a launch that disappeared May 6 with a loss of 17 lives had been sunk by a submarine of the Central Intelligence Agency.

"It is, of course, difficult to prove, but our conclusion was that our vessel was sunk by a penetrating torpedo," Castro said.

He added that prior to the disappearance of the launch—the P-43—the navy had received an SOS saying, "They sank us, they

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The faith of William Booth, who saw weakness and poverty as a pawnbroker's assistant in 19th Century England, strengthened him to form the Salvation Army that today serves man over the world.

William dedicated his life to Christ at 15 and went "forth to serve my God." He preached. In his late forties, he founded the Army with his wife, overcoming financial difficulties, ridicule and abuse to be honored by the king.

Today, these "sons and daughters of Him whose name and whose nature is 'love'" offer services that include the Anti-Slavery League, emergency housing, employment bureaus, nurseries, hospitals, homes for aged, youth camps, care for convicts, unwed mothers and alcoholics.

Art Students League Names Summer School Instructors

Four well known American artists and long time residents of Woodstock have been named instructors for the Art Students League's summer school in Woodstock. The school opens on June 5.

The quartet includes three holdovers: Walter Plate, Edward Millman and Arnold Blanch — and Dick Chambers, who is professionally known as Richard Munsell. Chambers will be teaching at the League summer school for the first time.

During the month of June there will be one morning class conducted by Arnold Blanch. In the months of July and August, there will be three morning classes. Arnold Blanch and Walter Plate will be painting and drawing classes. Munsell will teach a class in illustration, landscape and figure painting.

During the months of July and August there will be one afternoon class conducted by Edward Millman. The office and the grounds will be managed by Robert Angolech.

Inquiries about the summer school, one of the finest in the art world, have been greater than ever and a large enrollment is expected.

Stewart Klons, executive director of the Art Students League of New York and Woodstock has stated that the delay in the publication of the summer school catalog was for reasons beyond his control and that it should be in the mails within two weeks.

Committee Asks Board Action on Voter Survey

A Woodstock committee which campaigned vigorously for passage of the recently defeated bond issue in the Ontario Central district has recommended a district wide survey to establish, if possible, reasons for the issue's defeat.

The Ontario Committee for Better Education in a letter to the Ontario Board of Education suggests that "the Board conduct a systematic survey, perhaps via a questionnaire to all voters, to be returned unsigned to preserve voters' secrecy, or any other comprehensive way the Board may consider suitable."

The letter, which is signed by Richard O. Langham, chairman, follows:

"The recent defeat of the bond issue in the Ontario Central School District has placed problems before the Board of Education, decisions which will vitally affect the quality of education for a number of years. Such decisions obviously can only be taken on the basis of the fullest available information.

"Since there appeared to be little disagreement among most voters about the need for additional school rooms, clearly other factors caused the defeat of the Bond Issue. It seems to us that it is of vital importance to the Board to have accurate knowledge of just what these factors were. We feel the Board must know whether:

1. The defeat was caused by minor objections which could be eliminated by small revisions in the proposal.

2. Objections were of such a basic nature that a completely new formula would have to be devised by the Board.

3. Misunderstandings or miscommunications created sufficient opposition to cause its defeat, in which case better explanations or publicity in these areas might pass another Bond Issue.

"It is our feeling that such information cannot be obtained by random questioning of isolated voters. Moreover, such questioning usually gives most weight to the most vocal. And are not necessarily the representatives of the majority.

"It is our suggestion, therefore, that the Board conduct a systematic survey, perhaps via a questionnaire to all voters, to be returned unsigned to preserve voters' secrecy, or any other comprehensive way the Board may consider suitable to find out the reasons for the defeat of the Bond Issue.

"Only this way, we submit, can the Board obtain a true picture from which to base its decisions for the future." RICHARD O. LANGHAM

Will Have New Tennis Courts

Woodstock will have another tennis court this summer with the opening of the Woodstock Estates tennis facilities which will be supervised by professional personnel.

The court will be open to the public at a small hourly rental charge and the opening date has been set for Memorial Day weekend.

Woodstock tennis enthusiasts will be happy to learn that Ned Chase will manage the courts. Both Chase and his father, Edward Chase, have made tennis their sports careers and bring an excellent background to the post.

Ned Chase played varsity tennis at Harvard, while his father was not only a college player of repute but also competed in many amateur tournaments against the best amateurs in the country.

Tentative plans for the summer include tournaments and club championships. Professional lessons and the rental of equipment will also be arranged.

Weaving Class Set at Guild

The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, under its Adult Education program, is planning an evening course for beginners in weaving, to start immediately that 10 pupils are enrolled.

The class will be under the direction of Berta Frey and will meet in her spacious studio, well equipped with looms, in Bearsville.

Mrs. Frey is among today's most prominent figures in the realm of weaving. Teacher, lecturer and writer, her work has been exhibited internationally and is known widely for its beautiful quality in texture, tone and design.

A nominal fee is charged for 10, three-hour lessons, with pupils paying for materials involved. Further information is available from Mrs. Waigler at the Guild Shop.

Mrs. Roosevelt Backs Stand by H. Schimmerling

An observation by Prof. Hans A. Schimmerling that discipline in American education is inadequate was cited in a recent "My Day" column by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Schimmerling, who retired from the Ontario Central School music department last year, wrote about the difference in discipline after an extended tour of Europe during which he visited several school systems.

Commenting on the subject Mrs. Roosevelt wrote: "One very

Miss Watson will train to become a business teacher at Albany State Teachers College in September. able teacher from a rural area (Schimmerling), now retired, who visited schools in Vienna last year came back from Europe with the feeling that our discipline in education is inadequate.

"I agree that there are several kinds of discipline in which we fail to train our children," Mrs. Roosevelt wrote. "We always try to make learning easy, when as a matter of fact the sense of satisfaction that comes from having overcome a real difficulty is great and contributes enormously toward mental discipline."

"I also think that we have grown careless in enforcing the rules for respect that requires children to stand when a teacher enters the room and not to sit down until told to do so. This may seem a little thing, but in a way it is a tribute to learning and is an attitude we should encourage in all our young people if we are to expect them to really strive for education."

Dept. Says Secrecy of Swiss Stymies Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says it is faced with an underflow of Swiss secrecy in attempting to unravel the real claims involving the General Atomic & Fuel Corp.

The corporation, which has plants in Binghamton, Johnson City and Albany, N. Y., and London, N. J., was seized from Germany by the government during World War II.

Because of litigation begun by Swiss interests, which also claim part of General Atomic, the U. S. government has been unable to sell it to private investors.

Bills before the House and Senate would permit the sale and provide that money paid for the $17 million in property be held in trust pending the outcome of the litigation.

Irving Jaffe, chief of special litigation for the Justice Department's Office of Alien Property, said that in preparing part of the complex case for trial U. S. investigators ran head-on into Swiss bank secrecy laws.

Under them no one is permitted access to bank records, Jaffe said, or is anyone permitted to give to any foreigner any material which Switzerland believes would be detrimental to its economic position.

"As a consequence we are not getting full disclosure and even the books they are going to show us... have black-out pages," he added.

The Justice Department still owns over 90 per cent of General Atomic's stock.

The firm has about 8,000 employees and grosses more than $100 million annually.

SLA Closes 11 Grills in Albany

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Eleven Albany grills that the State Liquor Authority said had committed extensive violations, including allowing prostitutes and degenerates on the premises, were closed today.

The grills were among 26 against which the SLA filed charges during a crackdown that began last November. The agency announced Friday it had canceled or revoked the licenses of the 11. The other cases still are pending.

An owner whose license is revoked may not apply for another one for two years. One whose license is canceled may apply again at any time.

However, an SLA spokesman said it was a "technicality" whether the Albany proprietors' licenses were canceled or revoked. "The important thing is they are closed," he said.

Many Businesses Run On Fiscal Year Basis

Q "What does the term 'fiscal year' mean to me as a shareholder?" — B.M.

A Fiscal year refers to a 12-month accounting period which covers a different time span than the usual calendar year. To you as a shareholder, it has not great significance except perhaps to indicate the seasonal nature of a company's business. In some cases, reporting earnings on a calendar basis provides a distorted picture of quarterly or semi-annual profits.

Operating on a fiscal year basis has certain advantages. For example, many department stores find December 31 too soon after the Christmas rush to close their books, so they wind up their accounting period the following January 31. Their fiscal year, then, runs from February 1 through January 31.

Firms whose profits are tied to agriculture, such as Cullman Packing and Holly Sugar, begin their fiscal year in March or April to coincide with planting seasons. Several fruit companies, I know of 6,200, their years in September. Apple growers may start their fiscal year in May or June when fall buying begins.

Perhaps the best known example of a fiscal year is that employed by the Federal Government. Several years ago, in much of his tax money during the second quarter, his fiscal year runs from July through the following June 30.

You will find, though, that the great majority of businesses operate on the usual calendar year basis.

Q "I'm looking for growth in sound stocks. I purchased First Charter Financial Corp. Should I buy more?" — G.H.

A First Charter (NYSE) is doing well and further gains seem likely. A stock dividend is expected before the end of 1961. I still like the shares and continue to recommend them. For growth, you might also look into Fischbach and Moore (NYSE), a large electrical contractor and Sportsman Industries (NYSE), aggressive merchandiser, now moving into the discount store business.

4 Persons Hurt As Building Falls

NEW YORK (AP)—A three-story frame building in Brooklyn's Greenpoint section collapsed into a pile of rubble early today, injuring the four persons inside—some seriously.

Four other members of the two families that resided in the 50-year-old structure were not hurt when it disintegrated at about 1 a. m. EDT.

Mrs. Mary Sefek, 32, was taken to a hospital in serious condition, police said. Her husband, a transit authority workman, was at work when the building collapsed. She was buried in the wreckage for 45 minutes before rescue workers could reach her.

Taken to a hospital suffering from shock, cuts, abrasions and possible internal injuries was Mrs. Leona Simpson, 42. Two of her children, Patricia, 17, and Cathy, 13, were hospitalized for shock.

Editor, The Freeman

I would like to make some observations concerning the proposals of Democratic Alderman Donald Hastings for use of the lime caves for a community fallout shelter and concerning the Civil Defense Program in general.

Firstly, I doubt the feasibility of such a plan. I do not understand how it would be possible for one to breathe in such a shelter as the air would be contaminated by deadly poisonous radioactivity. It may be noted that during the air raids of the Second World War the most casualties came not from people above ground, but from those underground who died because of lack of oxygen and carbon monoxide poisoning.

Secondly, the costs of such a program are fantastic. It must be noted that the caves would have to be completely refurnished inside to make them inhabitable. Furthermore the cost of feeding the thirty thousand people of Kingston for several weeks would be immense and the special radioactivity detection equipment needed for these caves would run into thousands of dollars.

The danger of the fallout program in general is the false security it would give the American people. It is a known fact that most of us would not survive a thorough nuclear war even with shelters; for those that did what kind of a world would they face? If the American people were to believe in these impractical shelters, they would certainly not object to our nation pursuing an aggressive foreign policy and our leaders bringing us to the brink of nuclear destruction.

The answer to the threat of nuclear annihilation is not fallout shelters but peace. This can be achieved by negotiation with the Soviets, not only because the Russians do not wish to become involved in a nuclear war that would destroy all life, but believe that their system will triumph by peaceful means. Our answer to the Russian threat should not be fallout shelters, but a rededication to the cause of peace and democracy that will defeat the Communists without a Third-World War.

Series of

was no enthusiasm in Washington for further summit sessions.

U2 Changed Things

Eisenhower later modified his own position and the policies which he and Dulles had worked out toward a summit conference in the summer of 1959 in part at least as a result of Khrushchev's threats and pressures to change the status of West Berlin. Having met the Soviet premier in the 1955 summit conference at Geneva, Eisenhower invited him to visit the United States. The two men conferred in Camp David, Md., with the result that Khrushchev shelved for a while his threats against Berlin. Eisenhower agreed to a formal summit conference at Paris.

The Paris summit a year ago this month collapsed at the outset when Khrushchev turned a torrent of abuse against Eisenhower and branded him a false friend because of the U2 spy plane incident two weeks earlier.

He Only Target

The Paris fiasco ushered in a period of intense bitterness in U.S.-Soviet relations, but Khrushchev was careful to specify that his anger was directed mainly against Eisenhower as president and that he would not carry it over in his dealings with Eisenhower's successor. He canceled his invitation to Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union but spoke of inviting the next U. S. president.

When Kennedy was elected, Khrushchev switched tactics in his dealings with the new American leader even though conflicts between the Soviet Union and the United States over such issues as Laos, Cuba, and the United Nations continued. Diplomats said at the time that Khrushchev clearly was opening the way for a meeting with Kennedy, if Kennedy were willing.

The exchanges which led to Friday's announcement that the two men would meet actually began last February, a month after Kennedy's inauguration. U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson was summoned from Moscow for consultation when he left Washington Feb. 22 to return to his post but bore a message from Kennedy expressing willingness to meet, if conditions were favorable, this spring or fall.

No Specific Conditions

According to information from official sources, Kennedy attached no specific political conditions to his willingness to meet.

Officials did emphasize that Kennedy conceives of the forthcoming talk with Khrushchev as a completely private and informal airing of U.S.-Soviet relations and the problems involved in them but not as a negotiation. Presumably before going into a formal Big Four summit conference with other leaders such as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle, Kennedy would want careful advance preparation and some evidence that the conference might produce constructive agreements.

Allaben Couple

Insurance Association, 276 Fair Street, told The Freeman that a ham was burning in the stove.

Baetz, who was sitting in the living room, told them he didn't feel very well. Suddenly, he passed out, Mrs. Munch said.

Dr. J. G. McKoon of Phoenixia, who had been called, reached the home within a few minutes and began treating the couple. Gormley Ambulance of Phoenixia dispatched a vehicle to the home.

McKoon believed at first that Mrs. Baetz may have suffered a stroke, but when he found that both she and her husband were affected he realized that there was probably some other explanation. He suspected that it might possibly be paint fumes or food poisoning.

In the meantime, Sidney Ford, Chief of Shandaken Fire Company, who lives near the Herdman home, arrived at the home. Diane Munch had reported the trouble at the Baetz home.

Ford discovered that the Baetz car, located in a garage below the living room and kitchen, had been left running and that fumes were rising into the house. The motor had stopped at the time, but the ignition was still on.

Mr. and Mrs. Baetz were rushed to the hospital where they were revived by oxygen.

Retired Last Fall

Baetz formerly worked for the Ulster Tool & Die Corporation of Kingston but retired last fall.

Mrs. Munch said she and her father "felt" the carbon monoxide slightly but weren't in it long enough to become affected. She said she had just gotten home from work in Kingston when the telephone call came from Baetz.

Castro Sending

After repeating his proposal to trade prisoners for bulldozers "as compensation for the damage caused by the invasion forces," Castro asked his audience whether he had its approval. The crowd cheered noisily.

Castro also offered to trade the leader of the invasion forces—Capt. Manuel Artime—for Francisco (The Hook) Molina, a Cuban now awaiting sentence in New York City on a second degree murder conviction.

Molina was convicted of slaying 9-year-old Magdalena Urdaneta of Venezuela during a gun battle between pro and anti-Castro elements in a Manhattan restaurant.

The Molina case has been widely played up in Cuba as a politically inspired judicial decision based on U. S. hatred of Castro. The prime minister said the most important prisoners now in Cuba would be returned last, but only after he had received the last lot of bulldozers.

Besides Artime, Castro is holding Jose Miro Torres, son of Jose Miro Cardona, who is head of the anti-Castro revolutionary council, and Carlos Varona, son of Antonio Varona, who is another ex-lieutenant leader.

Paris Opens

heavily armed policemen.

Next Meeting Tuesday

The initial session lasted an hour and 40 minutes. The only announcement made by either side afterward was that the next meeting would be held here Tuesday.

There was a stir in Paris during the noon hour when the cable linking Evian and the capital failed. There was immediate fear of bomb sabotage but the cable was restored 45 minutes later and Evian reported all calm. There was no explanation why the cable failed.

Facing one another across the table, the Algerian nationalist foreign minister, Krim Belkacem, and the French minister for Algerian affairs, Louis Joxe.

Krim and his delegation arrived aboard three helicopters from across Lake Lemane in neutral Switzerland.

Joxe drove up in a black limousine, preceded by another carrying Jean Verdier, director of France's "Surete" and the nation's top policeman.

Both the rebel delegation and the French rebels seemed faced and reserved as they arrived. The only hopeful note was the wave and faint smile of rebel delegate Taieb Boufarouf as his helicopter circled over a group of newsmen.

The rebel helicopters carrying Krim's delegation landed on a heavily guarded strip some 300 yards from the Hotel du Parc, where the talks began.

French sources said that the talks opened with Joxe rising to make a long presentation of the French position.

In general, President Charles de Gaulle has instructed Joxe to negotiate for an Algeria that will be fully independent yet linked with France through cultural and economic ties and guarantee the safety of the one million Europeans living in the vast territory.

Many Obstacles

While both the French and rebels agree in principle that the future of Algeria should be decided through "self-determination" there are many major obstacles to putting the principle into practice. One such obstacle is whether or not the oil rich Sahara is to be treated as an integral part of Algeria.

When Krim stepped down from the helicopter it was the first time he had ever touched the soil of metropolitan France.

His delegation from the Algerian government-in-exile committee across Lake Geneva and the Swiss-French border to discuss on the French delegates' home soil the machinery for ending the years of guerrilla warfare in North Africa.

In Algeria and Paris, city streets were noisy with the bombings and gunfire of both violent European settlers opposed to the peace negotiations and Algerian rebels agitating against the French.

Nearly 30,000 troops and riot police guarded the port city of Algiers after a night of violence in which 23 bombs and grenades exploded.

The only reported casualties were two passersby injured by a grenade hurled in the streets of Bab-el-Oued, Algiers' worker section.

Oran Is Quiet

To the west, the city of Oran was reported quiet in the wake of a savage battle in the center of the city Friday night. Troops and police fought European settlers protesting against the opening of the peace talks.

European settlers, usual storm center of European resistance to President Charles de Gaulle's policy for Algeria, was normal as dawn broke bright and sunny.

But downtown Algiers was a huge traffic jam as security forces searched automobiles and checked the identity of drivers. Parking was forbidden on the big main thoroughfare so that riot squads could move swiftly if violence broke out.

European Switzerland is the host to the Algerian rebel peace delegation—invaded the Swiss consul's office in Oran Friday night and burned his files.

Heavily armed French troops broke up the mob after the rifle butts and tear-gas grenades of police could not cope with the demonstrators' stones, bricks and debris.

Miss Deyo apparently suffered an attack during the excitement.

Business Week

Motor Co. said the prospects for the nation's economy and the automobile industry are much brighter now than during the first quarter.

The new car sales rate for the first 10 days of May showed a 14 per cent gain over the first third of April. Dealers sold 163,632 domestic cars, compared with 128,864 in the April period.

Production for the week was estimated at 128,945 passenger cars, a slight decline from the previous week's 129,530 but enough to put the year's output over the two-million mark.

T. F. Patton, president of Republic Steel Corp., predicted that steel production would rise in each quarter of this year and through the first half of 1962.

The industry expected to show its 10th consecutive weekly increase. In the previous week the output was 1,988,000 tons, about 68 per cent of capacity.

Republic Recalls 2,500

An increase in orders and shipments has caused Republic Steel to recall 2,500 employees to its Cleveland plant since the first of the year.

The stock market shot up to historic highs during a week in which developments in the financial world came thick and fast.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed to new highs. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks jumped above 700 for the first time. These averages are made up of representative stocks, the so-called market wheelers.

But the public's feverish interest in low-priced stocks and new issues prompted the second warning in six weeks by Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, against unwise speculation.

Gain in Dividends

The Securities and Exchange Commission announced it would investigate practices on the smaller American Stock Exchange to determine if new regulations are needed. And the House Commerce and Finance subcommittee said it planned to investigate operations of the SEC which oversees all stock exchanges.

The Commerce Department reported dividends paid by corporations in April totaled $914 million, a gain of $17 million over April 1960. For the first four months of this year dividends totaled $4.3 billion, up $70 million over a year ago. The bulk of the gain was in communications and electric and gas utilities.

Retail sales in the week ended Wednesday ran 10 per cent ahead of a year ago but included Mother's Day buying, whereas the comparable 1960 week didn't.

A major development in the retail field was the announcement by F. W. Woolworth Co. that it will establish a chain of discount department stores.

Food Prices Dip

Wholesale food prices dipped for the fifth consecutive week and reached a new 1961 low for the third time.

Stock volume for the week was 24,274,470 shares compared with 26,026,336 last week. Bond volume rose to $37,989,000 par value from $34,661,000 last week.

Khrushchev," Pelly said in a statement.

On the other hand, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he isn't worried about Kennedy's being able to hold his own.

Site JFK Disadvantage

"The President is well-informed, unemotional and firm," Humphrey said. "He will give a good account of himself under any circumstances."

But among both Democrats and Republicans there was the feeling that Kennedy is going into the talks at a disadvantage because of the Soviet man-in-space accomplishment, the Cuban invasion disaster, and the situation in Laos.

Gloriously, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said that Khrushchev "seems to have most of the marbles."

Bridge Worker Hurt In Fall From Span

Lt. Gov. Assails Democrats Over '5 Cent' Dollar

GOUVERNEUR, N. Y. (AP) — One of the few areas in which Democratic leaders seem to agree is in "a passion to escape fiscal responsibility." Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson said today.

He said Democrats in New York and fought Republican Gov. Rockefeller's pay-as-you-go policy and the Democratic national administration was forecasting a budget deficit.

"The one thing that the Democrats in Washington and Albany appear to agree upon is that what this country needs is a good five-cent dollar," Wilson said.

His comments were made in a speech at the annual luncheon of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of St. Lawrence County.

Democrats have trouble agreeing with each other, Wilson said, in an apparent reference to that party's internal difficulties in New York State.

"There is one area, however," Wilson asserted, "in which Democrats do seem to find themselves in agreement—that is, in their passion to escape fiscal responsibility and plunge government into the red."

Wilson also was on the speaking program today for dedication of the Skyline Apartments, a new housing project for the aging in Watertown.

The lieutenant governor restated his policy that provision for the needs of the aging is primarily a family responsibility that "also quite properly a concern of government."

Veterans Rights and Benefits Listed

Education — Children of deceased veterans eligible for training under the Federal War Orphans Educational Assistance Act are advised to submit applications for benefits under this act during their senior year of high school. The applications which are signed by the parent or guardian of minor children should be submitted at least during the last semester of the senior year or as soon as possible thereafter. Applications submitted before the summer vacation starts usually will allow plenty of time for necessary processing and counseling which is mandatory under the law. Parents or guardians of eligible children not now attending high school who intend to go to college in the fall should also make application now or as soon as possible so that all arrangements can be finished before the beginning of the semester in which they plan to start under the WOEAA.

Dividends — A special GI insurance dividend amounting to $230 million is expected to be paid to some five million GI policyholders. Ex-servicemen who still have their GI insurance may expect to receive this special dividend during July and August. The dividend which will average about $46 is being paid to help the national economy.

Compensation — The administration has submitted a bill to Congress which proposes to raise the compensation rates received by veterans for service-connected disabilities. The proposed raise is five per cent. The percentage raise is proposed to offset the five per cent cost of living increase which has occurred since the last veteran compensation raise in 1957. The administration measure would raise the present wartime compensation rates of $19 a month for 10 per cent to $19.50 and the $225 a month for 100 per cent to $240 a month. The percentage rates would be increased from $15 a month for 10 per cent to $15.50 and the $180 a month for 100 per cent to $192. Additionally a five per cent increase was requested in the amount paid for dependents.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, New York.

Farm-Labor Meet Slated Thursday At Clintondale

The Kingston office of the New York State Department of Labor, Division of Employment, announces its annual farm labor meeting in Clintondale at the Grange Hall Thursday at 8 p. m. Sources of seasonal farm workers and regulations regarding their use will be discussed in detail.

All growers, especially those who use seasonal help, may attend and obtain the latest information available from local representatives of the various agencies involved. This meeting will present an opportunity for farmers to learn and make any necessary adjustments well in advance of the need for workers.

Other agencies represented will be the Social Security Administration, the Division of Industrial Relations from New York State Department of Labor, the Migration Division of Puerto Rico Labor Department, also the Board of Health and the Extension Service from Ulster County. Each representative will explain the services or responsibilities of his department. Growers will be given an opportunity to ask questions.

Health permits, migrant camp and crew leader registrations, child labor laws and changes in Social Security benefits will be discussed. The sources of labor and how to obtain southern migrants or contract workers from Puerto Rico will be explained.

Considerable interest was shown at a similar meeting last year when some 100 fruit and vegetable growers were in attendance.

Is Your House Buy-Appealing?

KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When the time for you to sell your house rolls around, you'll find there's mighty little expert information on how to go about it. I know. We just sold our house and it's like playing it by ear.

How do you go about coaxing the pampered buyer into pledging the earnest money?

Some of the pointers I learned may help if you must sell your house.

First, brace yourself for this pessimistic prophecy which your best friends will repeat often: "Hope you have better luck than old Bill and Mary. Their house has been on the market for eight months." We sold our home in eight days so I know it can be done.

Set a "realistic" price. This is a chilling procedure but remember you are selling a house, not the love, affection and good will you feel for it.

We arrived at a realistic price by taking what we paid for the house, adding the cost of capital improvements, evaluating the neighborhood (it has improved) and asking the real estate agent what he thought we could get. His answer, "Let's keep our fingers crossed," was not exactly reassuring either.

Pad the realistic price somewhat because this won't be the final price in all probability. In time, the real estate agent will return from a prospective buyer with an offer "we can all live with." This is real estate jargon for "they just knocked a thousand dollars off your price."

Your big job as homemaker is to get the house "ready to show." How much grooming will be needed depends on the condition of the house but a few dollars spent wisely can speed the sale.

A cynical painter, an old hand at fixing up houses to sell, advised me to get new light bulbs. "You don't need all this light," he explained. "Get 25 or 60 watt bulbs for those ceiling fixtures. That way people won't be able to see the bumps in the ceiling so clearly."

This advice started me on the long—and considerably dimmer—road to readying the house for show. Damaged plaster and cracks in the wall had to be spackled and taped.

Then, of course, the walls in one room had to be painted. Slap on a coat of light-colored paint advised the cynic, to make the place look larger.

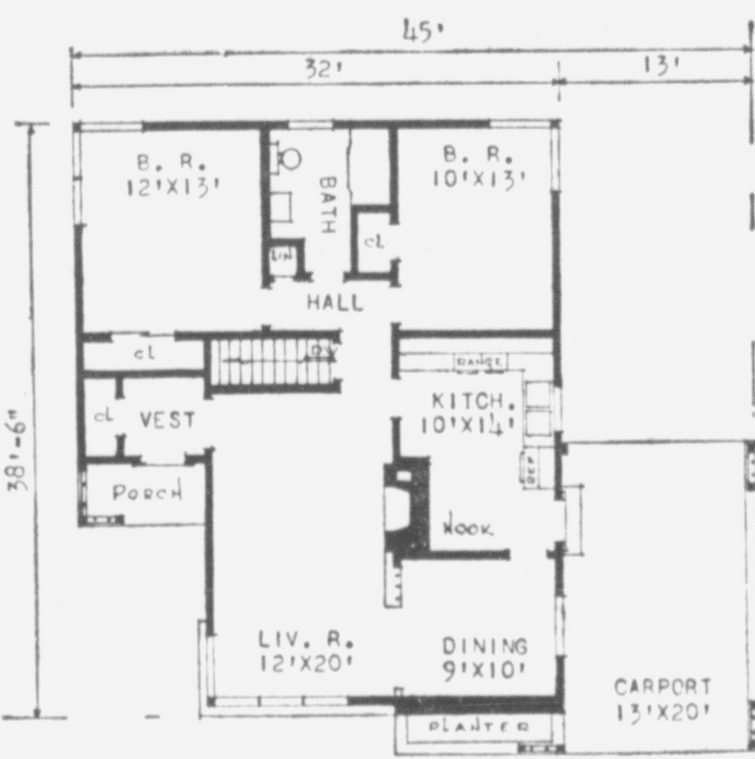

Our stair rail, a solidly practical chestnut brown disappeared under a gleaming coat of white paint. Reluctantly the children heard the command to keep hands off; drop their gurns; stop sliding down the bannisters.

Working at top speed, we touched up with paint scarred window sills and gouged door jambs. One point that buyers are nuts about is ample storage space. This is your cue to peek the clutter that jams cupboards and closets in cardboard cartons and hide them in the garage. When the prospect pokes into the closets, their comfortably empty appearance will imply more than adequate storage space. The same theory applies to the kitchen: keep counter tops cleared and cabinets lightly loaded.

When you cite the advantages of your location, think positively. This is no time to tell about the character across the street who gets drunk on Saturday. Talk about the worthy neighbors you have, the closeness of well-mannered playmates and the easy walk to the bus or train.

Big House Is Wrapped Up in Compact Package

(By Associated Architects)

Only 45 feet long, Associated Architects' new home plan, "The Gaylord," contains the same amount of living space as other ranch-type dwellings that run as much as 60 feet in length.

The explanation, of course, is that the plan is designed to take advantage of the depth of the building lot.

So you get the impression of a big home. Inside, this impression is enhanced by a sizable living room, full dining room and kitchen and two bedrooms, each with good closet space and ventilation.

Living and dining rooms form an "L," although they are separated by a short "wall" consisting of decorative shelving and screen. The 12 by 20 foot living room is just inside a vestibule which shields it very effectively against drafts. And to round out the living room the plan calls for an attractive corner window wall unit and a fireplace.

Not only is there a separate dining room in this home plan—there is also space in the kitchen for dining. Makes it easier when serving snacks or breakfast-in-a-hurry as any housewife can testify. And the logical arrangement of the kitchen equipment helps because counters, cabinets and appliances are within a step or two of each other.

By having a carport rather than a garage, the cost of this home is reduced materially, yet there is adequate protection for your car. Sheltered entrance is provided to the kitchen via the carport; the same is true of the main entrance, which is sheltered by a covered porch.

Plans for this home are available at moderate cost from Associated Architects. You will find they have versatility because they show how the house may be built of any of three materials: wood siding, brick veneer or concrete block.

You can order drawings with or without basement, but please be sure to say on the form below which you prefer. Cubage with basement comes to 20,300 cubic feet. Without basement, the cubage is 16,000 cubic feet. The living area of "The Gaylord" is 1,020 square feet, carport adds another 260 square feet.

Whatever your taste in building materials—wood siding,

Home Gardeners May Discover Breeds

Home gardeners may breed or discover very valuable new varieties to benefit the gardening world. The J. V. Edmonds of Albert Lea, Minn., should be thanked for the Giant Sensation type of cosmos, early and largest of all cosmos. He saved the seed and entered it in a national contest, where it won a silver medal upon introduction.

A private family cook in Los Angeles discovered or brought to light the double nasturtium. A preacher in Florida found the Dixie Sunshine or chrysanthemum-flowered marigold which, crossed with other types, started dozens of beautiful new marigold varieties.

Let Potted Plant Keep Its Place if Thriving

Potted plants that do well in a particular position are best left alone. To change them around without any special reason can only cause disturbance. On the other hand, specimens that fail to thrive in a particular place may need a change. Put them in another window and give them plenty of time to show whether they are better served there. The slower their natural rate of growth the more time must be allowed to permit any reaction.

Testing of Lacquer

To test lacquer, varnish or shellac for coloring properties, pour a small quantity over clear glass. If it shows an amber color, it will darken as it dries or impart its color to clear wood. If a clear protective coating is desired, it is best to use a water-white lacquer or bleached shellac.

Waterproof Coating

An uncoated brick structure will absorb moisture that can invade the inner walls and cause discomfort as well as costly damage. If adequately painted or given a clear waterproof coating, rain will be kept out, the structure will remain dry and warm and fuel will be saved.

Panel of Glass Block

A wall panel of glass block brightens a dark closet and provides daylight to help keep moths away from clothing. Even when placed in an interior wall, glass block "borrows" light from the adjoining room.

CP Industrial Chairman Named For Fund Drive

JAMES F. MALONEY

An executive of International Business Machines Corp., Kingston, James F. Maloney, has joined the Cerebral Palsy 1961 fund raising campaign as industrial chairman, it was announced today by Dr. Elbert F. MacFadden Jr., president of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc.

Maloney, who holds the post of salary administrator at IBM Federal Systems Division, Command Control Center, "will contribute his administrative abilities to the industrial phase of our drive," Dr. MacFadden declared, "and form a strong leadership team with county chairman Howard C. St. John, and city house-to-house Chairman Francis J. Vogt."

In accepting the responsibility, Maloney stressed the "crucial nature" of the services performed daily for 160 physically handicapped children at the CP Treatment Center, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

A father of four, Maloney pointed out that "no parent need fear the unknown if he suspects that his child is slow in developing physical abilities. Top professional knowledge and facilities are available right here at our own non-profit treatment center," he explained, "to diagnosis, evaluate, and, if necessary, to rehabilitate physical handicaps ranging from CP involvement to birth defects, post-polio complications, muscular dystrophy, and speech and hearing problems."

Maloney has been active in community service work ever since he became a resident of Kingston late in 1954. He is a member of the board of directors of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc., belongs to the Kingston Kiwanis Club and the Knights of Columbus, and is a past vice president of the Parent's Association, Academy of St. Ursula.

A graduate of Holy Cross College, he took his post-graduate work at Harpur College. During World War II he served with the Marine Corps for four years, and rose to the rank of major. He lives with his wife, Mary, and four children on Dirks Lane, Kingston.

BRIDGE

Correct Bid Aids Partner

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What does third hand do when his partner's opening bid is doubled for take out?

The accepted best practice is that he should bid if he has anything worth showing and that any bid, except a redouble, should not be taken as a strength-showing bid.

Today's hand is a good example of the advantage such a bid can give the bidder. It was the deciding hand in an important team match some years ago.

At both tables West opened with one heart and North doubled. One East passed, the other bid two diamonds. Both South players bid two spades and both North players raised to four.

Both Wests cashed their two top hearts and then looked around for the proper lead to the third trick.

It was no problem for the man whose partner had bid two diamonds. He put the nine of diamonds on the table and South had to lose a diamond trick in addition to the ace of trumps and was down one.

The other West had a problem and went wrong. He led the jack of clubs.

This gave South a chance to draw trumps and get rid of North's two losing diamonds on his long clubs.

Royal Native Set To Make 1st Start In Aqueduct Race

William B. MacDonald Jr.'s Royal Native, the filly and mare champion of 1960, probably will make her 1961 stakes debut in the $50,000 added Top Flight Handicap at Aqueduct next Saturday. The Top Flight, a mile and a furlong for fillies and mares, starts off what could well be one of the greatest weeks of racing in New York history for following the Top Flight, on Tuesday, Memorial Day, is the $100,000 added Metropolitan Handicap and then the following Saturday, June 3, comes the 93rd running of the $125,000 added Belmont Stakes.

However, before this big eight days, which starts with the Top Flight and winds up with the Belmont, there are two other stakes listed for this week. On Wednesday, is the $25,000 added Brighton Beach Handicap of a mile and five furlongs on the turf course and on Thursday, the 11th running of the Aqueduct National Turf Stakes.

Royal Native, who won this race last year, has been working well for the Top Flight but she'll have to run against fillies and mares who have the benefit of recent racing. Tops among these might well be Cain Hoy Stable's Make Sail. This filly is one who runs late and likes a distance of ground. There have been three filly and mare handicaps at this meeting and they have followed an orderly progression as to distance. Make Sail ran in all three and improved in each.

Make Sail was fourth in the Correction (6 furlongs), third in the Distaff (7 furlongs) and second in the Bed O'Roses (one mile). The added furlong of the Top Flight should help her chances.

Also probable starters in the Top Flight are fillies which won two of the aforementioned races. Calumet Farm's Gate won the Bed O'Roses and Fred W. Hooper's Teacation was the winner of the Distaff. Calumet may well send out another to run as an entry with Prince's Gate, Sun Gint.

August Wedding Plans Are Being Made Here
By Catherine L. Horvers, Arthur H. Kahrs

CATHERINE LOUISE HORVERS

Mr. and Mrs. John Horvers of 9 Meadow Street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Louise, to Arthur Howard Kahrs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kahrs of 421 Wilbur Avenue.

An August wedding is planned.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent of the Ulster County Extension Service Association, submits the following article on floor wax:

The next time you're shopping for a floor wax, count the number available. There'll be quite a few—5, 10, 15, maybe more. Yet, despite the variety, each wax is one of two basic kinds—spirit solvent or water emulsion.

One advantage of the spirit solvent waxes is that they're not cumulative—they don't build up around the edges of a room. As their name implies, these waxes contain a solvent—turpentine, naphtha, or benzine, for example. When the wax is applied, the solvent dissolves the old wax and picks up the dirt contained in it. (It not only prevents the build up of old wax, but cleans as it waxes.)

University, points out that, in addition, these spirit solvent waxes give a very tough, water-resistant, long-lasting finish. However, they are not self-polishing—they require buffing.

Another disadvantage is that the spirit solvent softens asphalt and rubber tiles, damaging them. Fortunately the label cautions you against using the product on these materials. So the words, "Not recommended for asphalt or rubber tile," can help you identify a spirit solvent wax. Another clue to their identity is mention of a dry cleaning solvent, turpentine, naphtha, or benzine . . . or a warning that the mixture is combustible.

Hopefully we no longer need worry about freezing temperatures. But the phrase, "Keep from freezing," is of year-round importance when you buy wax for floors of raw wood or cork.

"Keep from freezing" . . . printed on a container of liquid wax . . . is your clue that the product contains water. If the water is applied to . . . or gets to . . . the bare wood, it will raise the grain and may darken the floor.

The problem may be more serious if the floor covering is of cork—even a well-sealed cork. As you know, cork is very porous, and will absorb the water. Drying problems may result. These are especially severe when the surface wax dries . . . sealing moisture underneath it.

So, beware floor waxes bearing the words, "Keep from freezing," if yours are floors of cork or raw wood.

On the other hand, these water emulsion waxes are just the ticket for asphalt and rubber tile floor coverings.

A Waxless Floor Wax
There's something new under the sun—a floor polish containing no wax. Although this product is an emulsion of a plastic resin, it is considered a water emulsion floor wax, and like it, is self-polishing.

Other outstanding advantages seem to be exceptional durability against scuffing, resistance to water marks, and minimum slipperiness. In addition, it will not yellow as waxes do.

These plastic resin products sometimes are described as a "waxless coating," a plastic resin finish, or a "fast-drying polymeric blend." The label may indicate that the product will not yellow.

Miss Jane Heath points out that these resin polishes also have the drawbacks typical of water emulsion floor waxes, for example, they are cumulative; if one coat is not completely removed before another coat is applied, the product will build up where there is little walking in corners, near the walls, and under furniture.

Since the product does contain water, it should not be used on floor covering of raw wood and cork.

Judge Is Sympathetic

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Lewis Sterling need not have to spend his wedding day in jail, thanks to a sympathetic judge.

Sterling was sentenced Friday night to 10 days in the Monroe County Penitentiary for driving while his license was revoked.

City Judge Emmett L. Doyle suspended the sentence, fined Sterling $50 and placed him on a year's probation after he was told the defendant planned to be married May 27.

A BADLY NEEDED LESSON

Q: I would appreciate your help on the following matter: I am 17 years old and on Sunday morning I usually go to church with my boy friend, after which he comes home with me for breakfast. Last Sunday, breakfast was not quite ready when we arrived and so I set about to help my mother. My boy friend went into the living room to read the newspaper. When I told him that breakfast was ready, he came into the dining room with the newspaper in his hand and continued reading. I was very much annoyed over this and in self-defense I picked up part of the paper and started to read too. When my mother came into the dining room, she promptly took the paper away from me and then went over to my boy friend and did the same thing saying, "I'm sorry but in this house we don't read the paper at the table."

My boy friend was highly indignant over this and thought my mother very rude. I told him that I thought she was perfectly right and he was the one who was rude. Will you please tell me if my mother was wrong to have taken the paper from him?

A: Your boy friend's taking the paper into the dining room and continuing to read it at your mother's table was so astonishingly rude, that he deserved to have it taken away from him and she was entirely justified in doing so.

Leaving A Party Early

Q: When meeting a group of people at a friend's house for the first time, and I have to be the first to leave, should I go to each one to say good-bye and tell them individually how much I enjoyed meeting them? Would it be impolite to leave without saying good-bye?

A: On leaving a party of any size you say quietly to anyone you are talking with, "I'm sorry I have to go now, it was nice meeting you," and leave without saying good-bye to the others, which might start them all leaving and break up the party.

A Girl's Hope Chest

Q: From whom does a girl receive her hope chest? Do her parents buy it for her, or does her fiancé give it to her after they are engaged?

A: The girl's parents buy the hope chest.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column. (A Bell Syndicate Feature.)

Asks Test of Process

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Republic Steel Corp., engaged in a dispute with city officials for several weeks over smoke and dust caused by a new oxygen steel-making system, has formally asked the City Council for permission to test the process.

Company officials asked Mayor Frank A. Sedita Friday to test oxygen lancing in its open hearth furnaces here for 18 to 24 months.

Fluid Prices Hold

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prices producers are receiving for fluid milk in city markets are holding at year ago levels.

An Agriculture Department report showed today that prices paid for Class I fluid milk in markets under federal regulation in early May averaged $5.20 a hundred pounds, or one cent above the 1959-60 May average.

But sales of fluid milk in these markets was said to be running about seven-tenths of 1 per cent below a year ago.

More Jobs Is Key

NEW YORK (AP)—The key to equal opportunity for all races is more jobs, says Gov. Former U. S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers was presented an award by the club, which has its headquarters in Harlem.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Academy aftermath—

Oscar remains his handsome self, but Emmy seems to get prettier every year. This week's Television Academy show saw her at her best.

Over Awkwardness

That doesn't mean she can't improve—no 13-year-old is perfect. But at least Emmy has passed the awkwardness of the early years and seems on the brink of maturity.

The entertainment portion of Tuesday night's program was handled about as brightly as it could be. But the whole thing would have been for naught if the awards had not been apt. Which they generally were.

There can be no real quarrel with the choices. Certainly "Macbeth" deserved its multiple victory, since it added a touch of greatness to a lackluster season. Its sponsor, Joyce C. Hall, certainly deserved the special bravo from the academy trustees. If only there were more like-minded sponsors.

Fred Astaire is always a popular choice, especially when his perfectionism is compared with the slapdash specials of other big names. The Huntley-Brinkley twins are the biggest thing in the news line, and Twentieth Century puts out shows of continuous quality.

Raymond Burr is TV's hardest-working actor and his work never fails to convince. Barbara Stanwyck was a fine choice as best series actress; she is skillful in any role. Her show deserved a better fate than to be dumped after one season.

Holds Out for Hope

You can't argue with the awards to Leonard Bernstein and Rod Serling. But there might be a little curping in the humor category. This is not to detract from Jack Benny, master of comedy. But he already has a shelf full of Emmies while Bob Hope has none. This omission must be corrected.

Chico Marx Has Chest Congestion, Condition Is Fair

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Chico Marx, 70, oldest of the five comic Marx Brothers, was rushed to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Friday night suffering chest congestion. Later his condition was reported fair.

One source who asked to remain unidentified said the old piano-playing comic's illness apparently resulted from a heart ailment he suffered a year ago.

Marx, whose real first name is Leonard, was accompanied to the hospital by his second wife, the former Mary DeVilbiss.

Hot Tamales—Actress Anne Baxter, a rancher's wife Down Under, commutes from Australia to Hollywood to keep her hand in the film flicker business. Currently, she has the role of a Mexican heart throb in "A Walk on the Wild Side."

Saugerties Defeats Beacon, 5-2, in DCSL Struggle

Good Relief Job By Fury Saves Victory for Mills

Mike Fury stopped a Beacon threat in the seventh inning and Saugerties High beat the home side, 5-2, in a DCSL game yesterday at the Southern Dutchess field.

Saugerties starter Keith Mills was breezing with a 5-1 lead starting the seventh. However, he walked three batters with one out and Coach Bill Straub summoned Fury from the bullpen. He walked a batter to force in a run but then nailed down the win for Mills by retiring the side.

The Savoyers, who are now 1-3 for the season, trailed 1-0 until the third when they scored four times. A walk to Jerry Ollinger and an error with one out started the rumpus.

Dick Marelli doubled and on an overthrow to third base he scored. John Nolan's two base hit got in the other marker.

Mills, a towering junior righty, walked seven and struck out nine in his tenure on the hill. Starter Richie Lunford took the loss. He and teammate Bob Wright walked off the field in the fourth inning after the bench jockeying became too rough for them. They couldn't take it.

Jaycee Jays Topple Hawks

George Dougherty hurled a three hit shutout and fanned 10 batters as the Jays whitewashed the Hawks, 8-0, in a Jaycee Little League game last night.

Two big innings made the victory a breeze. The only Hawk who came close to scoring was Bruce Gilligan. He rapped a lead off home run in the first but was left stranded at third.

Snyder and Andy Murphy took hitting honors for the winners. Snyder singled and doubled and Murphy went 3 for 3 with a pair of singles and a double.

The Indians scored eight times in the first two innings and easily defeated the Giants, 8-4, in a Town of Ulster Little League game yesterday. Darkness halted the contest after five frames.

Palmer, Player to Participate In International Cup Matches

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Writer
WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Stan Leonard have full intentions of playing in the International Cup matches, the Associated Press learned today.

The matches are set for San Juan, Puerto Rico, June 1-4, the same day as the Memphis Open which last June signed a Professional Golfers Association contract.

Memphis officials are insisting that Palmer, as U.S. Open champion; Player, because he has been a PGA tour winner this year, and Leonard, victor in the Western Open in Detroit last July, fulfill their PGA contracts to play in Memphis.

Palmer will represent the United States with Sam Snead as his partner. They won the team title last year in Dublin. Snead needed only a PGA permission to play in Puerto Rico and received it.

Members of the winning team were Sheila Gallop, Rosemarie Eckert, Linda Roe, Michelle Re and Donna Zwick. The tournament is a nationwide event conducted by the American Junior Bowling Congress. The winning team was sponsored by the Gov. Clinton Hotel. Approximately 16,000 girls teams throughout the states participated in this spring's tournament.

New Paltz Wins, 13-0; Highland Nips Onteora

Roaring towards the championship, New Paltz batters rapped nine base hits and won a 13-0 victory over Rondout Valley in a UCAL match yesterday at the winners' diamond.

The winners scored five times in the fourth to give starter Biff Longfield a good working margin. He turned over the hurling chores to Woody Osterhoudt in the sixth and he finished the whitewash job.

Outfielder Glen Moore had a perfect day for the Huguenots of Coach Joe Heloski with four straight singles. Ken Freer had a pair of hits and scored three times.

Lynn Johnson and Keith Johnson divided the three hits the Ganders were able to muster off the combined offerings of Longfield and Osterhoudt.

Final Monitors Course Is Tuesday

A final session for the Radiological Monitors representing the American Legion Posts in Ulster County will be held Tuesday, May 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Supervisors Room, Ulster County Court House, 285 Wall Street.

This session will consist of an intensive review of the radiological instruments used in a fixed station. Those volunteers who have missed a previous meeting should attend this fourth session in order to learn first-hand how the radiological instruments should be used.

In due time, each of 10 Posts registered in the course will be visited to ascertain the attenuation of the Post and its suitability for a fixed station. Following this inspection, a kit containing the essential radiological equipment will be issued to the Post. The trainers will be responsible for checking and maintaining the instruments. Repairs of inoperable equipment and procurement of batteries will be routed through the Ulster County Office of Civil Defense.

Timely pertinent information will be issued to those who registered for the course to update knowledge of fallout measurement.

From this training program our country will develop a capability to monitor fallout in the event of a nuclear disaster and provide the intelligence to survive such disaster.

Texas Area Hit By 7-Inch Rain

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pattern of torrential rains and thunderstorms that caused flash flooding in normally dry portions of western Texas and Arkansas late Friday gave way to scattered showers and drizzle during the night.

Shower activity lingered in an area from western Nevada and northern Texas Panhandle, however, with scattered drizzle and fog through the central Plains, portions of the northern Plains and the central and upper Mississippi Valley.

Rainfall was generally light during the night and the rest of the country had generally fair to partly cloudy weather with temperatures ranging from the 40s and 50s in the North to the 60s and 70s in the South.

As much as seven inches of rain fell in northwest Texas in Friday's deluge with neighboring areas measuring four inches in a 24-hour period.

The downpour sent the Conch River over its banks and into residential areas near Sterling, Tex., where Springdale, Ark., was hit by its worst flooding in years when a four-inch soaking pushed creeks and streams out of their beds.

Hail and high winds accompanied the thunderstorms, uprooting trees and snapping utility lines. Some tornadoes were sighted in northwest Texas but none were known to touch ground.

Span Leap Balked. Man on Probation

Accused of attempting to leap from an iron bridge on Route 28 into Esopus Creek on Friday, Robert Vincent Stokes, 36, of 124 Hurley Avenue, today pleaded guilty before City Judge Aaron E. Klein.

Stokes was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and placed on probation.

According to police, Detective Charles McCullough and Trooper Charles Tevelon were notified by a motorist that a man was clinging to the outer rail of the bridge on the Washington Avenue viaduct and threatening to leap.

The motorist said a woman was trying to prevent the leap. The woman, who appeared in court with Stokes, was not identified.

McCullough, who was off duty at the time and Tevelon hurried to the bridge and pulled Stokes to safety. Police said the incident caused a traffic tieup.

Seven Orphaned

Schoolgirl Kills Parents, Opposed Dating Habits

HARTINGTON, Neb. (AP)—A pretty young schoolgirl was in the small brick jail here today after admitting she killed her parents because they objected to her having dates.

County Atty. Max Goetz said he would file charges against Sharon Dahl later. He said the straw-blond high school sophomore signed a statement she shot her father, Victor Dahl, 45, and her mother, Rosa, 34.

The slaying orphaned the seven children of the tenant farmers at nearby Coleridge. Sharon was the eldest. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Chris Dahl of nearby Laurel took the others, ages 2 to 12, after the tragedy.

Goetz said Sharon claimed her parents had been restricting her for a couple of years. About a week ago, Sharon told him, she began thinking of killing them.

About daybreak Friday, she related in her statement, she slipped downstairs, loaded both barrels of her father's 16 gauge shotgun and blasted both parents in the head as they slept.

EDITORS NOTE—Robert Berrellez, Associated Press correspondent in Havana imprisoned during the abortive Cuban invasion flew back to the United States Friday night with the first plane load of repatriated Americans. Here is his report on the present situation in Cuba.

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A powerful minority, with a fading picture of Fidel Castro as leader, rules Cuba now.

This minority, born out of the nucleus of well-trained Cuban Communists who went into the hills with Castro to support his revolution against deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista in 1958, is bent on carrying the new revolutionary dogma to every corner of Latin America.

Fidel's Role Uncertain

The objective, eventual destruction of "imperialism," the Socialist term for the United States, without global war.

What part Fidel Castro personally will play in this is questioned by many.

These are the impressions gathered by this reporter from influential Cuban politicians, professionals, trained observers and the man-in-the-street during a 25-day imprisonment in one of Cuba's most ill-famed penitentiaries—La Cabana, military fortress.

Together with 51 other American repatriates and about the same number of other passengers, we rode to freedom Friday from Havana.

Hopeful of Return

The majority seemed hopeful of returning to a "free Cuba" someday. But most all were at a loss to explain how, or when.

This question was no mystery to the nearly 2,000 Cubans left in La Cabana when I left the military jail last May 12. To a man they were sure either direct American intervention or an invasion by the Organization of American States would liberate them.

They seemed to have discarded any hope an internal upheaval would liberate them. They knew that the abortive April invasion had destroyed a well-organized underground poised with smuggled arms to strike the minute an invasion came.

"They didn't tell us," bitterly cried one underground movement man in prison. "They ruined us and months and months of work, money and material are gone just because they didn't tell us they were coming. What's wrong with your people?"

Death Noted Pright

La Caana appeared populated by the top-ranking people of the nation. There were no less than 25 doctors—some hemisphere-revered specialists—in our prison, but hardly any aspirin to ease a common cold. A well-known Havana lawyer died of pneumonia May 10 despite repeated calls on the prison commandant that a man was seriously ill in a cell. But his death served to call attention to our plight. The next day aspirin and some penicillin were available to combat an epidemic of influenza that was still raging when I left the prison.

The la-tyer who died—Dr. Enrique Guiralt—was among countless thousands rounded up starting April 15 in what possibly was the biggest detention of human beings in hemisphere history. The exact figure of prisoners may never be known. Estimates ranged upwards of a quarter million.

A civilian engaged by secret police to count prisoners in the area of headquarters, told us privately he had often heard the figure of "over 147,500" detainees in Havana alone.

Results May Brew Storm

The militia and the way it worked in the first days after the April 15 bombing of Havana's military airport seemed to prove a point often brought up by students of the Cuban scene: that it was organized for the specific purpose of rounding up suspicious

CUBAN LEADER—Closeup of Prime Minister Fidel Castro was made during an inspection trip in Havana after the failure of the invasion to overthrow his government.

citizens at the first sign of trouble. Castro himself has repeatedly called on the "citizen soldiers" to organize "revolutionary defense groups block by block."

The roundup was swiftly carried out.

But Castro may have reaped a storm with the results.

"Whatever happens," said a prisoner in La Cabana, "our country will never know peace under this regime. What's the use of getting out of prison if you are but a prisoner outside?"

On the way to G-2 headquarters when I was arrested the afternoon of April 17 I sat between two young officers in civilian attire. A long convoy of armed militiamen wound by.

"Isn't that a marvelous sight?" one of the officers said. "Soon you'll see this in Mexico and Venezuela. Eventually you will see it in your own country. This revolution is but the start of the end of imperialism."

Shepard Planes To West Coast, Mum on Flight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard and a fellow astronaut arrived in a jet trainer Friday night but they would say little about their presence here.

"It's just a routine flight. We just want to get in some practice," said Shepard, who rode a missile capsule 115 miles high and 300 miles downrange at Cape Canaveral May 5.

With him as co-pilot aboard the T33 trainer was Air Force Capt. Donald Slayton.

Reporters asked how long they would be here.

"We might go back in an hour," said Shepard. But he and Slayton rode off in a car with a man wearing an Airsearch Co. jacket. Airsearch is an aircraft service firm at International Airport.

Shepard had checked over the plane after landing. When photographers took his picture, he said, "That wasn't nice, was it, fellows?" From then on he said not a word in reply to newsmen's questions.

Most of Gary's Estate Left to Family, Mother

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Gary Cooper left most of his estate, believed to be worth more than $1 million, to his widow, daughter and mother.

His will, signed last Feb. 27, when he knew he was dying of cancer, was filed Friday in Superior Court for probate. The screen star died last Saturday at age 60.

The will leaves Cooper's widow, Veronica, half the estate, including his interest in their home. From the other half it bequeaths $5,000 each to a brother, Arthur Cooper; a nephew, Howard Cooper; and a niece, Georgia C. Burton. $1,000 to Our Lady of Gethsemane Abbey in Kentucky and $10,000 to the Motion Picture Relief Fund, Inc.

The remainder goes into a trust for Mrs. Cooper, their daughter Maria and the actor's mother, Alice L. Cooper.
